BOSTON, April 12.—An investigation of the Cape Cod angle in the Lindbergh baby kidnapping case indicates that the baby was and probably still is on a vessel in rum row or No Man's Land Island, the Boston American said today in a copyrighted article.

"It supports Colonel Lindbergh's own belief that he paid $50,000 ransom to the actual kidnapers in his New York negotiations," said the newspaper.

"The baby was to have been returned to him on Cuttyhunk Island at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of Sunday, April 3, after being brought from Rum Row to Gay Head and transferred then to the 28-foot yacht for which Col. Lindbergh made inquiries at Cuttyhunk. Something happened to block consummation of the deal—perhaps a fear of the kidnapers that they themselves were

PA NEW OBSERVES
Pa New observed Homer Welsh, prominent Grove City singer, drive down Mercer street Monday afternoon and park his car, which had been a brand new machine, but which looked like a cyclone had struck it. The right side of the machine was caved in where it had collided with something, and both windows were broken out. None was injured in the crash Mr. Welsh stated.

Fire! Fire! Fire! And the cry of that is enough to start a pilgrim of half-asleep home folks moving into the downtown, as it did in the customary style last night. Pa New wouldn't wonder but what more people saw the lumber firm's blaze than have ever stood by to see one here.

Only last week the seniors who hope to receive diplomas from the Senior high school in June were subjected to an intelligence test—one of the several conducted for graduates-to-be.

Nels Anderson, Harlansburg road, R. D. They are of the Holstein breed and this is the first time that there has been twin calves born in his herd.

There certainly was an unusually large number of autos parked downtown last night. Finding a parking space early in the evening was one long hunt.

PINCHOT-VARE FEUD FLARES OUT IN OPEN

(International News Service)
The smouldering Pinchot-Vare political feud flared into the open today with charges, counter-charges and denials bandied about from one opposing camp to the other.

Gov. Gifford Pinchot charged in a formal statement issued at Harrisburg that William S. Vare, Philadelphia chieftain, attempted to further his political fortunes by procuring the illegal release of three youths from Huntingdon Reformatory. The inference drawn by the governor was that, with parental favor gained, campaign funds would be poured into the coffers of the Vare organization.

Stung by the charge, Vare issued a denunciatory denial from his home at Ventnor, N. J., and indicted the governor for failing to do "the decent and fair thing"—Communicating with Vare—before issuing the accusation.

As for Mrs. Edna McGreen, mentioned by Governor Pinchot as a relative of Vare and an alleged intermediary in the case, Vare made the terse retort:

"Never heard of the woman."

Mrs. McGreen retorted in kind. The Rev. Dr. Waldo Cherry, a trustee of the institution, likewise disclaimed any political pressure had been brought to bear and said the board's action in ordering the release of the youthful prisoners had been taken in good faith.

Judge Bailey dismissed the charges with the following statement:

"There was no political pressure brought to bear upon me. I do not know Mr. Vare.

"I paroled these boys after a thorough investigation. They had no criminal records so far as I could learn."

Prosecution Hopes To Drive Home Closely Woven Murder Web

HONOLULU, T. H., April 12.—Convinced that the secret of the "honor" defense of Mrs. Grace Hubbard Fortescue and her three American compatriots has been solved, the prosecution today was ready to drive home its closely woven murder case.

Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, in a moment of emotional rage, fired the shot that killed Joseph Kahahawai, according to the defense plans as learned by the government, a source close to the prosecution revealed to International News Service today.

Will Call Aliens
Mrs. Fortescue, Lieut. Massie, and two naval enlisted men are on trial accused of the second degree killing of Kahahawai, suspected Hawaiian ringleader of a gang of five hoodlums at attacked Mrs. Thalia Massie, daughter of Mrs. Fortescue and wife of Lieut. Massie.

Two eminent psychiatrists from the mainland, Drs. Edward H. Williams and Thomas J. Orblison, will be called by the defense next week in an attempt to prove that Lieut. Massie was morally if not legally justified in killing Kahahawai, prosecutor Kelly believes.

With an end to proving that the shooting of the Hawaiian was premeditated, and not the result of momentary rage, the prosecution announced that eight more important witnesses will be paraded today as

Fire Calls Swamp Phone Operators

Traffic Heavier Than During Capital Theater Fire, Tannehill States

During the first forty minutes of the Citizens Lumber Company fire last evening, the seven telephone operators on the night shift were unable to handle the tremendous rush of calls which swamped them, and the services of 23 additional girls were needed to handle the traffic, District Manager Ray S. Tannehill stated this morning.

The number of calls was even greater than during the Capitol Theater blaze, he stated, probably due to the fact that many people had retired earlier on the evening of the theater fire, which was Sunday.

The blaze last evening also lighted up the sky more, the clouds hanging low last evening, while the night of the Capitol theater fire was clear.

Rescue Crews With Oxygen Tanks Hard At Work, Eight Volcanoes Belch Forth

BUENOS AIRES, April 12.—Their lungs filled with acrid smoke and ashes from erupting volcanoes, hundreds of residents of towns and villages nestling near the Andes range in Argentine and Chile fled for their lives today.

Eight volcanoes continued to belch forth an interrupted stream of smoke and ash, covering the surrounding countryside to a depth of three feet with the choking powder. The Argentine government launched extra-ordinary relief measures, despatching rescue crews with tanks of oxygen to sustain the lives of those unable to breathe in the smoke and gas-laden air.

Relief trains sent to the aid of volcanic sufferers from Mendoza City were forced to return this morning. The workers were unable to proceed into the Andean region because of blinding clouds of dust. Reports received here stated hundreds of Andean inhabitants were seriously ill as the result of inhaling the dust and sulphur charged atmosphere.

Earth Shocks Felt
All principal volcanoes were reported in eruption, while minor earthquake shocks were felt in the southern part of the country. Ashes fell as far eastward as Montevideo, Uruguay, 600 miles away, and Buenos Aires, Argentina, 100 miles nearer the Andes.

In Buenos Aires the Ministry of the Interior was asked to rush tanks of oxygen to several provinces where the populace was affected by gases from the volcanoes, while the entire citizenry of the capital coughed

Must Keep Dogs Tied Warning Of Mayor

Prospects of a dog killing campaign brighten today when Mayor Charles Mayne served warning that the rights of garden growers must be protected and unless owners obey the mayor's order to tie dogs on their own premises the campaign result will be to the sorrow of the dog owners.

"Gardens are more essential than dogs that are allowed to run loose," said the mayor in reply to a question as to what he proposes to have the city police do to check the annual destruction of greenstuffs and flowers by dogs, licensed or unlicensed.

"Dogs must be kept on the owner's premises. If a dog is not kept on the owner's premises the dog will be shot by police. It will not make any difference whether or not the dog has a license.

"People who own dogs should fasten them in such a way that they can obtain exercise. A 'wire run' would allow the dogs to obtain the necessary exercise," the mayor stated.

Several years ago the city police actually put through a dog killing campaign. At that time dogs with licenses were not killed. They were taken in tow and returned to owners.

Should the city police start another campaign of dog killing, proposed if the dogs are not kept tied, no attention will be paid to a license.

There is no question that the promiscuous roaming of dogs, big, little, blooded and mongrel, have wrecked the disposition of not only officials but garden growers.

Annually police officials have issued requests time after time that owners "tie up your dog." Some owners have obeyed the request but many other owners have not heeded the request.

This spring and summer conditions will be different. Persons unemployed are now trying to eke a living from the soil and dogs running loose no doubt will ruin many gardens.

Mayor Mayne does not propose, he pointed out today, to let this annual situation bob up again. In fact he made it emphatic that all dogs, regardless of who owns them, must be tied.

There are a number of riot gangs at the city police station and unless there is a speedy improvement it would not be surprising to see the "dog killing squad" be assigned to duty.

FIRE CAUSES LOSS OF $80,000 AS CITIZENS LUMBER PLANT BURNS

Fire Razes Plant On White Street Late Monday Night

CAUSE OF BLAZE NOT DETERMINED

Fully Insured—Likely To Be Rebuilt—Thousands Of Spectators

Fire which was discovered at 10:28 Monday night completely destroyed the planing mill and machinery of the Citizens Lumber Company on White street, with a loss of approximately $80,000. This is fully protected by insurance.

Just how the blaze started has not been determined. It spread through the plant so quickly that firemen arriving on the scene immediately were unable to enter any part of the structure, and were forced to turn their attention to saving surrounding property.

Likely To Rebuild
Just what action will be taken regarding immediate rebuilding of the plant is not known at the present time. A. E. Kerr, vice president and general manager of the Citizens Lumber Company stated this morning, but the company will likely rebuild the ruined structure soon.

The building was a two story brick structure, about 80 by 150 feet, and was the most modern planing mill in this section of the country, containing the latest machinery and woodworking equipment.

Mr. Kerr was at a loss to explain the origin of the fire. He stated that there had been no fire in the building. The only way which he could figure that the fire started was from an electric switch. When the switch arm regulating the current to the motors is placed at a neutral position it produces enough electricity to burn up the motor, but not enough to start it running.

On several occasions in the past, the spring has become worn in the switches, allowing this switch arm to fall into such a neutral position, and has burned out the motors, but fortunately it has occurred while workmen were on the job and has been detected in time to prevent any fire.

being double-crossed. No man's land has twice been searched by government agents since April 3.

No Complaint Signed.

TRENTON, N. J., April 12.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh has not signed any complaint against anyone in connection with the kidnapping of his baby, Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, head of the New Jersey State Police, asserted in his "news bulletin" to the press this morning.

"The police have not sworn out any John Doe warrants or any other warrants as yet," the statement added.

Continuing the statement said: "It is not known what statements this unknown friend of Colonel Lindbergh's may have made but we do know that Colonel Lindbergh has not given out any statements concerning this matter to the police authorities nor for publication by the press."

This comment was predicated on a question submitted to Schwarzkopf in which he was asked concerning a report that Lindbergh had told this unnamed friend that he would not pay another dollar until his baby was restored.

Curtis Absent.

NORFOLK, Va., April 12.—Continued absence of John Hughes Curtis, shipbuilder and chief of the trio of negotiators here seeking recovery of the kidnapped son of Col. Lindbergh, cheered his associates materially today.

Curtis left here Sunday, at a time when a complete breakdown of negotiations carried on through him and his two associates was feared. The two negotiators here feel the fact Curtis had not come back at an early hour today meant he accomplished the object of his trip.

The Very Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock, rector of Christ's Episcopal church, and one of the negotiators, commented on Curtis' mission in a highly optimistic tone. He said:

"The continued absence of Mr. Curtis convinces me that he has been able to re-establish his contact, despite all the recent discouraging complications."

The Rev. Dobson-Peacock and the third of the negotiators, Rear Admiral Guy H. Burrage, now feel that Curtis has succeeded in maintaining his contact with the purported agents of the kidnappers. They are satisfied that the negotiations will

By DAVID P. SENTNER International News Service Staff Correspondent

TRENTON, N. J., April 12.—All the power, every resource of the eastern police today was thrown into a mighty pursuit of one comely, middle aged and modestly gowned woman on whose capture authorities pinned their faith of "breaking" the Lindbergh baby kidnap mystery.

The police teletype flashed the order for her apprehension after a keen-eyed proprietress of a bakery shop at Greenwich, Conn. recognized a $20 the woman offered as one paid by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh as ransom in the vain hope his son would be restored to him.

As Mrs. Ella De Cornille, owner of the shop, compared the bank note with the list of hundreds sent out by the treasury department after Lindbergh revealed the hoax played upon him by the supposed abductors, she found it was one it was one of those listed.

One of Lindbergh Bills.

"Why, that's one of the Lindbergh bills," she exclaimed.

Her customer, who had asked for a strawberry tart and a loaf of bread, excitedly snatched the bill from Mrs. De Cornille's hand, dashed out of the store and was driven away in an expensive car manned by a chauffeur.

The auto proceeded toward New Haven, Conn.

The official report clicked out over the communications systems among four states which led to an immediate hunt for the car follows:

"Greenwich (Conn.) police department reports a woman of following description went into bakery in city of Greenwich, made a purchase and presented $20 in payment."

"Storekeeper looked at bill and remarked it was one of the Lindbergh bills."

Woman grabbed bill out of storekeeper's hand and ran out of store and jumped into green sedan, license number unknown. It was waiting outside with chauffeur at the door.

"Woman is white, aged 42. Five feet six inches. Good looking. Dark complexion. Wore a string of silver beads around neck. Gray felt hat, gray tweed coat. Brown dress. "Stop for questioning."

Number of Bill.

The number of the bill was reported as KB 0387539 A.

No attempts were made by the kidnappers to get in touch with Lindbergh since one of his emissaries paid the $50,000 ransom demanded on the promise, since broken, Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr. would be restored to his parents.

This statement was made by Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, head of New Jersey state police, after he attended a conference late yesterday with Colonel Breckenridge, legal adviser to Lindbergh, in New York City.

It was generally believed this was the second meeting which was attended by Dr. John F. Condon, the "Jaisie" who under melodramatic circumstances actually paid the money to the supposed abductors near a lonely cemetery in New York.

With Lindbergh insisting, despite the swindle perpetrated on him, the money received the money must have been the real kidnappers as they used the cryptic code concealed in the original ransom note left when the baby was stolen. Dr. Condon continued to be engaged in mysterious activities today.

Foresee Developments.

"Important developments may come at any hour," he said on his return to his Bronx, N. Y., home after attending the mysterious conference.

Inspector Henry Bruckman of the Bronx police extended an offer of official assistance to Dr. Condon, but the latter declined it. He also refused to reveal what his plans were in connection with the Lindbergh case.

"Matters will adjust themselves," he asserted.

Several detectives questioned the retired school principal. It was described he furnished a good description of the men who took the box containing the ransom money from him, while Lindbergh himself waited near the desolate meeting place in his car.

The leader was identified as a husky, six-foot Scandinavian or German. He and one of his two companions were reported to be known to police.

One report was that these three actually were members of the original abduction ring, but had quarreled with the co-conspirators over the amount of ransom to be demanded.

When the kidnap gang ostracized them, they determined on the double-cross, according to this view.

This would lend basis to Lindbergh's confidence the money went to the original kidnappers, since he believed no one else knew the secret means of identification used in the first ransom note.

Dr. Condon's climatic part in the negotiations which started when he offered $1,000 reward for the return of the baby, continued when he received word from the alleged kidnappers and kept in touch with them through personal notices in newspaper signed "Jaisie."

This was summarized by a report to Police Commissioner Mulrooney of New York.

"Dr. Condon paid the $50,000 to three men in St. Raymond's cemetery, Bronx, on April 2, Saturday night."

"He met them there at nightfall by appointment."

"Colonel Lindbergh waited in his automobile on Tremont avenue until Dr. Condon returned and informed him the money had been paid."

"Colonel Lindbergh did not see the transaction and did not at any time see any of the three persons said to have received the money."

"Under the agreement, the child was to have been restored on April 3, Sunday morning."

"The restoration was to have taken place on a yacht said to be moored to a pier at Martha's Vineyard."

"Colonel Lindbergh, Dr. Condon and Colonel H. C. Breckenridge, the Lindberghs, flew there next morning."

"They found no yacht and no child."

FIRE CAUSES LOSS OF $80,000 AS CITIZENS LUMBER PLANT BURNS

among the first to discover the blaze, and he stated that when he first observed it, the fire was burning fiercely almost in the center of the building.

James Brown, night watchman of the plant, stated that he had been through the plant at 9 o'clock and at that time there was no evidence of fire anywhere.

A. P. Miller, foreman of the plant, said that it was not the custom of the company to leave any fire burning in the building at night, and was at a loss to explain how the fire could have started. Officials of the company made the same statement.

As soon as Central firemen arrived on the scene and saw the magnitude of the blaze, they turned in a second alarm, which summoned five departments to the scene.

Building Doomed.

Although firemen poured all the water they could into the raging inferno, their efforts were of no avail in checking the blaze, and they kept playing water on sheds surrounding the plant to the east and south, preventing the fire from spreading.

One big shed in the rear of the planing mill, separated from it by only a few feet, was saved by firemen, as was the office building and lumber sheds to the east. The shed in the rear of the plant contained $15,000 worth of valuable lumber.

Ed C. Wilson, treasurer of the company, stated:

"The fire was a spectacular one, the low-hanging clouds reflecting the glow from the flames which could be seen for many miles. Several sharp explosions, caused by containers of paint or gasoline letting go, occurred during the course of the fire."

Walls Fall.

Firemen from No. 5 department had a narrow escape from injury when a section of the wall along White street fell, carrying a telephone pole with a heavy transformer atop it, with it. The men were just able to get clear of the pole as it crashed to the ground.

According to Mr. Colechchi, the heat from the blaze was so intense that he was scared trying to get his machine from the garage across the street from the fire.

Electric power lines outside the building were burned off at the start of the blaze and the live wires lay scattering in the road, endangering the efforts of the firemen. Employees of the Pennsylvania Power company soon cut the lines, and later the current was cut off in that section.

Loss Around $80,000.

Treasurer Ed C. Wilson stated that the plant was worth approximately $38,000, while the machinery and lumber stored in the building was worth an additional $42,000, making a total loss of around $80,000. Insurance to the extent of $90,000 was carried on the plant and stock of lumber outside, so that full protection will be available on last night's loss.

Firemen did a commendable piece of work in preventing the blaze from spreading to the property immediately surrounding the plant, as the heat from the blaze was intense and sparks were carried to the roofs of the adjoining sheds and houses. Fortunately these roofs were wet from the rain during the day, aiding the firemen in their efforts to keep the fire confined to the plant.

B. J. Watkins, superintendent of the Rescue Mission, with a group of workers appeared on the scene during the course of the fire carrying sandwiches and coffee for the firemen.

In addition to the equipment of the plant, there was a big truck just outside the plant entrance, which was destroyed along with the other contents of the building.

It was 1:30 this morning before the greater part of the fire had burned itself out, but firemen continued to pump water into the smoldering ruins for some little time after that.

Officers and directors of the Citizens Lumber Company are: E. L. Stitzinger, president; A. E. Kerr, vice president and general manager; Ed C. Wilson, treasurer; Charles W. Duff, secretary, all of whom are directors, together with W. H. Gillespie, A. R. Mornes, J. E. White and W. D. Stitzinger.

Small Water Main.

It is said that some criticism has been directed at the firemen since the blaze, to the effect that some of the men do not know how to operate the pumps on the fire trucks, but this was indignantly denied by Assistant Fire Chief H. Clare Stockman, who said that a competent man is in charge of each of the trucks bearing pumps and that the pumps worked efficiently at the fire last night.

The biggest trouble was a lack of water volume, he said, and this statement was borne out by Capt. Ralph B. Craig, acting assistant fire chief, who stated that the hydrant nearest the lumber plant, at the corner of Shady Side and White street, was only on a four-inch line, and would not supply enough water.

Capt. Craig stated that No. 2 engine was pumping water through two streams from a hydrant on Grove street, but that it was necessary to cut one of the lines off because there was not enough water at the hydrant to supply two lines, and a competent fire line was only secured after one hose was cut off.

Truck No. 5 was pumping from S. Mill street, where there is an eight-inch water main, and this threw an adequate stream, firemen stated.

Rain Prevents Spread.

Firemen state that the only thing that averted a more serious conflagration was the fact that it had rained for several days, and roofs of homes and buildings in the vicinity were thoroughly soaked with water. Resists along Pearson street stated that showers of burning embers were hurled about their homes from the plant.

A. E. Kerr, vice president of the Citizens Lumber company, stated this morning that he had made a request both to council and to the New Castle Water company for a larger line to their plant, but was told that there was adequate protection in case of fire. He said this was hardly borne out by the experience at the fire last night.

Following the numerous fires here recently, considerable interest has been developed on the part of citizens to know how often fire hydrants are tested out, and whose duty it is to see that they are working properly. It is said that at the recent fire on Washington street, one of the lines of hose laid to the fire had to be abandoned because the hydrant did not work properly. Last night the water supply at the fire did not seem to be adequate.

There has also developed on the part of the citizens of the city a curiosity to know how much actual training and experience with the pumps in operation the members of the Park avenue department have been given since the new machine was installed some months ago. Operation of the pumps is most important at a fire and the men in charge should be fully experienced in handling the pumps, it is certain.

Martin Gil, prominent Argentinian seismologist, issued a warning to residents of towns near the Andes to evacuate their homes, expressing fears that the eruptions would culminate in a major catastrophe.

Among the volcanoes erupting were San Jose and Miapo, both of which were believed extinct. The volcanic activity appeared to be traveling northward, craters in the long mountain range flaring into life one after the other.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEMBERS HEAR BOOK REVIEWS

The literature committee of the Department of Fine Arts of the New Castle Woman's Club was in charge of the program Monday afternoon in the Highland church, with Mrs. Harry Gormley arranging the program.

During the business session Mrs. B. M. Mott was named recording secretary in place of Mrs. John Madigan, whose resignation was accepted.

Mrs. S. L. McCracken was named as second ward chairman for the hospital drive, and the program committee includes Mrs. F. S. Breneman, Mrs. Archibald H. Davis, Jr., and Mrs. H. M. Kirk. Mrs. W. H. Hanger gave a report of the worthwhile movies.

Business over, the program was presented and Mrs. Garmley gave a splendid review of "The Lady of Godley's" written by Ruth Findley. She told most interestingly of the life of Mrs. Sara Josepha Hale, who was editor of Godey's Book for more than forty years; how she had been instrumental in starting day nurseries, sending out the first medical missionary, getting equal property rights for women, opening public playgrounds, establishing a union day for Thanksgiving, made house-keeping a dignified profession, got women teachers into the schools, and with it all raised a family of five children, her husband having died shortly before the birth of her fifth child. She thus established a record for what a woman over 40 can accomplish.

Mrs. Benjamin R. Williams of the Butler Woman's club reviewed Col. Edward Marshall Hadley's book, "Sinister Shadows," and although the book is greatly prejudiced and has some glaring false statements, nevertheless, Mrs. Williams brought out the high lights that show the menace of communism in the United States.

Study Group.

The international relations department of the Woman's club will meet Monday, April 12, at 2 p. m. in the home of Mrs. William C. M. Sheridan, avenue, for the class in "world citizenship".

WESTMINSTER'S ANSWER TO ATHLETIC SUBSIDY

WESTMINSTER college's answer to the cry of athletic subsidies which has been raised in this district very frequently of late, is to be seen in the announcement of yesterday, in which it is found that one of the stars of the championship Titan basketball team of the past season is salutatorian of the graduating class.

Certainly athletics and scholarship have been associated in this case. And it is no unusual occurrence at Westminster. Every year, the graduating class sees a proportion of the members who have achieved athletic fame, standing also in the scholastic honor group section.

Only a few years since, the valedictorian of the class was the basketball center of the season preceding.

Friends of Westminster in this city are just a bit thrilled by the record that is being made by Titan athletes in the classroom. It's a record that speaks volumes for the plane of athletics and scholarship at the Lawrence county institution.

Congratulations Mike Kocheran! As an athlete and leading student, you have made an unanswerable contribution to Westminster's glorious record of the years.

P-L-A-Y B-A-W-L-L

Christmas and the Fourth of July have no tighter grip upon the affections of the male portion of the population of the United States than the day which opens up the annual baseball season. In 1932 this happens to be today.

Business will be carried on as usual, probably, in many places, but there will be occasional, perhaps frequent, mental lapses from the strictest attention to sordid details connected with the mere accumulation of money.

Between April and October—when the race is closely contested—the American man and boy and an occasional girl and woman lays one more stick upon the existing load to be carried through the hot term. But it is not of those added burdens which give pleasure even in the frequent pains of defeat.

Between April and October there is a patriotic obligation to make diligent inquiry that is not to be denied concerning each day's scores. The duty of keeping in mind without error the standing of the teams is one that may not be neglected. Some details of work or business may be temporarily sidetracked, but never that of memorizing the standing of the clubs.

And who is there to say that Americans' zealous devotion to this one great national sport does not make them the better for it? It provides relaxation and diversion that makes existence less hum-drum for countless thousands.

SECOND LINDBERGH OUTRAGE

The announcement that Colonel Lindbergh paid $50,000 several days ago for the return of his infant son, and that the bargain made with the kidnappers has not been kept by them, gives their crime a deeper dye than ever. Their object was to get money, and this they achieved by a promise to return the child. They were "properly identified," Colonel Lindbergh reveals, and the condition of the payment was that they would disclose "the exact whereabouts of the baby." Now they have simply made off with the large sum which they were able to extract through the harassing anxieties of two bereaved parents. We do not look for many traces of conscience in criminals. But in this case they had every reason to play fair.

Such a cruel deception as they practiced, however, marks them as more than ordinarily odious in their villainy. There is probably nothing to be done now save to use the whole force of the law in tracking them down. The immunity which the Colonel felt forced to grant them was conditioned upon their keeping their word when the ransom had been paid. Yet, since the negotiations which have ended so disastrously secured the safety of the child while they were under way, it is more difficult to feel a sense of security now. The chief object of the kidnappers must be to save their own skins.

Everyone will hope that the Lindbergh baby will yet be returned or found in safety. This latest outrage comes at a time when the demand for doing everything to stamp out a peculiarly vile form of outlawry has become loud and insistent.

THEY SHOULD HAVE SPOKEN SOONER

It is rather late in the day for the New York Board of Trade or other business bodies to come out in favor of the sales tax. This point should have been made clear when the House Ways and Means Committee first favored this means of raising revenue. There was opposition from one interest and another to every alternate form of impost, but little was said to impress Representatives with the conviction that anyone in particular was behind this form of tax. Having fought almost every other means of raising the required revenue, trade bodies left the sales tax to shift for itself.

Many of them, no doubt, had no clear realization of its merits. But they should have seen that, if some such general levy as this were not adopted, special levies would be inevitable. No doubt greater economies in the conduct of the government would go far to relieve the public of increased taxation. But to cut expenditures is a much less pleasing task than to "soak the rich." Business interests will generally agree that the budget must be balanced at any cost. But the cost would have been less if they had shown greater appreciation of the nature of the emergency with which the Ways and Means Committee had to deal.

PROBLEM OF HAWAII

Release of the Richardson report on the crime situation in Hawaii was most timely—during the trial of the sensational international Massie-Fortescue case, which was the direct cause of the Richardson investigation. While the report does not mention the case, except in a general way, it accounts for a number of the recommendations.

Investigation disclosed that the territorial offices of attorney general and high sheriff are now dominated by politics to the demoralization of every law enforcement agency on the islands. The conclusion arrived at is that these offices should be made appointive, with the president doing the appointing.

Other recommended reforms would give the governor more power, abolish the practice of freeing defendants after the second jury disagreement, and liberalize the judicial procedure.

Apparently the island police, public prosecutors and courts have been lax and ineffectual, not to mention corrupt and strongly prejudiced along racial lines. The conditions which culminated in the Massie-Fortescue case could not have existed otherwise.

There are communities in the United States whose citizens can understand the situation in Hawaii and sympathize with those seeking to correct them. Even now there are cities and towns where conditions nearly parallel those in Hawaii.

All Of Us

We Have Ballast
We Have Fair White Sails
And We Need Both

By MARSHALL MASLIN

Somewhere, years ago, in a book by Maurice Maeterlinck, I came across three fine paragraphs of wise thinking, good writing, and copied them down and put them away and then forgot where I had put them. And rummaging through the comic confusion of my desk, just yesterday, found them again.

They were as if I had met an old friend. And I wondered as I began to read them if they would seem as true and staunch as they had seemed 10 years ago.

Just as you wondered, when you meet a friend whom you have not seen for years, if he will be as he used to be—or if you will have changed so much that friendship between the two of you will be no longer possible.

This, however, is what Maurice Maeterlinck had written:

"Let us think sometimes of the great invisible ship that carries our human destiny, upon eternity."

"Like the vessels of our confined oceans, she has her sails and her ballast. The fear that she may pitch or roll on leaving the roadstead is no reason for increasing the weight of the ballast by stowing the fair white sails in the depths of the hold. They were not woven to molder side by side with cobblestones in the dark."

"Ballast exists everywhere: all the pebbles of the harbor, all the sands on the beach will serve for it. But sails are rare and precious things: their place is not in the murk of the well but amid the light of the tall masts, where they will collect the winds of space."

Our ballast keeps us steady in the great currents of eternity. Our Slower Wisdom, Our Second Thoughts, Our Long-inherited Prudence, Our Earthly Calculations, our Affection for the Present, our Allegiance to the Little God of Things as They Are—count these as the ballast of our lives.

What, then, are "the fair white sails" of which our friend is speaking? They are our Dreams, our Un-calculated Aspirations, our Hot Enthusiasms, our Fierce Convictions, our Rich Hope for the Future, our Deep Desire to Be Better than We Have Ever Been. These are the Sails that we spread in the unseen gales of eternity and that carry into the storms and out of them and into some calm port at last.

THE LADIES AND CONTRACT BRIDGE

(With apologies to Rudyard Kipling)
For years I've played bridge when I've had to:

I've filled, when a table was short, I've tried to oblige all the ladies, For I'm an agreeable sort. One was a Culbertson teacher. One had no sense in her dome. One had read volumes by Whitehead. And one is the lady at home.

Now I aren't no 'and and with the wimmen. It's out with the men I belong. They leave you to guess what they're thinkin'.

An' your guesses are usually wrong. There's times you will think that they 'ave 'em.

There's times when you'll know they 'ave not. But the things that you'll learn from the feminine sex

Will undoubtedly help you a lot. One was as proud as a duchess. An' I know she was eager to win. She counted her cards ten times over.

Then bid me "two spades" to begin. Now I 'ad a king an' two aces. An' I thought that all powerful we were.

So I took her to six, an' they set us four tricks. An' I learned about bidding from 'er.

The next was the wife of a tailor. As sharp as his scissors was she; She played what is called "the official."

So I opened a club bid of three. She went to four hearts and she made it.

But as mad as a hatter she were. Coz 'a slam we'd have made had I mentioned a spade. An' I learned about bidding from 'er.

Then I sat down with my Nellie; I bid an' she gave me a jump. I figured she must have an ace on the side.

So I went for the game at no trump. They opened a diamond suit solid. An' set for a thousand we were. When peace settled down, I'd a bump on my crown.

An' I learned about bidding from 'er. (Copyright, 1932, Edgar A. Guest)

PAYING UP

I doff my hat, and things like that—my heart with rapture thrills, whenever I meet, upon the street, the man who pays his bills. His pants may be bagged at the knee, and patched up, like as not; but unlike you, when bills are due, he's Johnny-on-the-spot. He may be poor, but he is sure! His credit's good, all right. His employers and creditors don't lie awake at night. Society, it seems to me, and automobile rides, and pink silk hose and sporty clothes and Panamas besides; even fancy feed we do not need, and soft drinks by the score, should wait until that other bill is paid up at the store.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:36. Sun rises tomorrow 5:25.

In affirming the Talbot bill the supreme court justices vigorously expressed opposition to sustaining any person too lazy to work or too slow to do. They might have also added not to be used for political purposes.

Cut This Out and Paste It In Your Hat: "The Hardest Thing To Find After You Have Lost It Is—HEALTH."

Quite often The News is criticized for not publishing political communications sent in, some signed by right names, others by phony names and others by any old kind of a name. If we printed all the letters sent in by nuts, fanatics, cranks and other species of undesirable citizens there would be nothing else in this newspaper. Of course if any patriot wants to pay for his slush and signs his right name it will be printed—but you never hear of one of those birds who would pay for printing their piffle. Paying for it saves us a lot of trouble and we would rather not have the money at that.

A winter resort is a region of glorious sunshine where people sit indoors and play bridge.

IF I SHOULD DIE TONIGHT

If I should die tonight, And you should come to my cold corpse and say, Weeping and heart sick o'er my lifeless clay—

If I should die tonight, And you should come in deepest grief and we—

And say, "Here's that ten dollars that I owe,"

I might arise in my white cravat And say, "What's that?"

If I should die tonight, And you should come to my cold corpse and kneel,

Clasping my bier to show the I say, If I should die tonight,

And you should come to me, and there and then

Just even hin't 'bout payin' that ten,

I might raise the while, But I'd drop dead again.

Our own opinion is that the boards of revision could chuck out about five or six hundred airs no one knows or sings and which incidentally, no one wants to know or sing, leaving a hundred of

He bought a piano with polished stool (remember this man was somewhat of a fool) and then an attachment to play the thing (rump-te-te-tumpty, ting-a-ling-a-ling). Oh, his credit was good, but his brain was weak; so he bought everything at so much a week—a little bit down and the rest later on—now he's deep in debt, and his credit is gone. A fool, I said. There is no accounting for tastes; anyway, as the old woman said when she kissed her coo—so here goes:

One of his congregation, who had followed him hence to see that justice was done by his consorsious listeners, remarked triumphantly at the close of the service: "Ha, Ha, my bilities. Noo ye'll be hearin' a sermon worth while for a Sabbath, or twa."

England's Balanced Budget Wins American Admiration

Deliberate And Universal Acceptance Of Required Standard Of Living With Payment Of High Taxes Held Up As Example To World

Announcement from London that the British budget has been balanced, with a moderate surplus over expenditures for the year is held by Americans to offer encouragement to those who are seeking to accomplish a similar result in the United States. Taxation, it is observed, has been practically universal and much heavier than in the United States, while the standard of living has been made to conform to the requirements of national finance. "Britain is paying its way," says the NEWARK EVENING NEWS, "and has $1,383,200 in the bank. Its confidence in itself is justified. The lion has grown a new coat and out another set of teeth." The Evening News also remarks that the people across the water have taken themselves "by the scruff of the neck, and faced the duty of paying current expenses out of current revenues"; that "it has been a bitter dose to swallow, but it has been gulped down"; that "Britain has put its back against the wall and fought its way through, and no one can be churlish enough to deny it the admiration it has earned." The Newark paper adds that "in comparison, this country doesn't know the first letter in the word tax" and that "if we don't watch out it will be Britain instead of the United States that has the distinction of leading the world back to prosperity."

"A year ago," according to the OAKLAND TRIBUNE, "the world felt sorry for John Bull, and many were the doubtful comments and gloomy predictions." Noting that the coalition government "was ruthless with the pruning knife," The Tribune emphasizes the results of the policy adopted: "At the end of the year in place of a deficit there is a sizeable surplus in the English treasury and everyone over there feels better. Times are looking up, the specter of falling currency and bankruptcy has departed; bills are paid on time; and the government makes sure that a deficit is not to return. The nation of Britain is before the world. While no needs are nowhere near so great, it is one to be taken to heart by this country which will feel the immediate benefits once it has made sure that its budget, also, will balance."

"It was no easy accomplishment," remarks the ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, with the statement that "the whole nation went on a starvation basis so far as comforts and luxuries were concerned" while "country homes and shooting lodges of wealthy city dwellers were closed; heirlooms were put on sale, and gold plate was melted up so that the metal could be used in the payment of taxes." The Constitution notes that "they are in cheerful mood," and offers the advice: "If the people of America will follow this example and keep their heads up and their spirits cheerful and confident, the heavy tax burden that they, too, now have to shoulder will be easier to carry. More than that, the clouds of depression will soon roll away before the economic sunshine of optimism."

Created profits will make the larger taxes less of a drain upon individual revenues."

"The rejoicing," according to the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT, "is shared by people of moderate means, who pay income taxes at a rate that would make an American howl with anguish." With the thought that "the balancing of the budget is a spur to that confidence in the future which must obtain if the present troubles of the world are speedily to come to an end," The Transcript feels that "the news from England is to be included in the cheerful tidings of the day." Speaking of the revenue bill in this country, the Boston paper suggests: "The American people should have it enforced upon their consciousness that it lays no burdens as heavy as those imposed by revenue measures in England. If comparison is made, taxes here will still be light."

With a tribute to the stamina and courage and real patriotism of the British people, the LEXINGTON LEADER suggests that "they are canny, too, and anything that threatens British credit or that creates hazards for British commerce brings out all their innate courage and tenacity of purpose." Reviewing the details of the proceedings, The Leader states: "The tariff act the abandonment of the gold standard have together had a most stimulating effect upon the same time. India alone is supposed to have accumulated, by private agencies, at least three billions in gold."

"The entire population," remarks the OMAHA WORLD-HERALD, "has taken a step downward in the scale of living, and has done so without any startling social revolutions or troubles. The victs have been hard won, and the victs are determined to hold. But the British are determined to follow by other nations, including ours. There can be no false hopes of easing the burden. Embarked upon a career of public spending, and burdened as well by the staggering debts left from the World War, there is only one thing to do."

"Every man, woman and child," states the NASHVILLE BANNER, "has had a greater or less part in the 'great drive.' The paper also comments: 'The statement that the

OVERWORK

You feel badly in need of a vacation.

Getting away from all work for a month or so seems to you the only respite that would do you any good.

Because you cannot do this, you feel there is no chance of favoring yourself.

But how about the time that you are not employed?

Do you use this time to recuperate or do you take on some form of recreation that leaves you exhausted?

Late hours make a big demand on your vitality and yet you indulge yourself in amusement that takes you out late and makes sleeping hours short.

You burn the candle at both ends. It isn't your job that is to blame for your continued low state.

It isn't that you cannot go to Florida or to California or take a sea voyage that keeps you feeling poorly.

It is the unnecessary drains that you allow yourself in amusement, which makes such great demands on your vitality.

You may be one of the fortunate ones whose work keeps you on the jump.

Don't be afraid of overworking, even though you assume additional duties.

Get such an idea out of your mind. But don't punish the old machine unnecessarily.

Market Probe Is Continued

Will Be Resumed On Next Monday After Counsel
Is Employed

UNTERMYER IS OFFERED POST

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 12.—After running into a "blind alley" in a search for Bear raiders, the Senate Banking and Currency committee today suspended its stock market inquiry until next Monday in order to employ special counsel. The committee will offer the post of "prosecutor" to Samuel Untermyer, noted New York attorney.

This decision was reached after the committee failed to get any evidence of Bear raiding from Richard Whitney, president of the New York Stock Exchange.

Whitney even denied there had been Bear raids in recent weeks.

On the witness stand again today Whitney reiterated for the second time that the New York Stock Exchange did not favor nor encourage administration statements that a new era of prosperity had dawned.

"Did not the stock exchange promote and encourage statements that a new economic era had arrived and prices would never go back?" asked Senator Brookhart (R. of Iowa).

"No sir," replied Whitney, "that is not so."

"But was it not the policy of the stock exchange to promote the inflation?" asked Brookhart.

"It was not," snapped Whitney. "Well, you did nothing to stop the volume of business."

"That is none of our business. We are a market place in which we endeavor to offer a place for trading under strict regulations."

"You mean by that you want the market to move up or down and you don't care whether it moves up or down?"

"I grant we like activity in the market, but normal activity."

Democrats Will Aid Passage Of Big Tax Measure

Will Confine Tariff Considerations To Coal, Oil And Copper

ARE ANXIOUS TO GET BILL PASSED

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Apr. 12.—Senate Democrats today were in tentative agreement to confine consideration of tariffs in the tax bill to coal, oil and copper.

In a Democratic caucus presided over by minority Leader Robinson of Arkansas it was agreed to avoid general consideration of tariffs and expedite passage of the revenue bill in every possible way.

"We are anxious to let the country know what it has to face as soon as possible," Robinson said.

He intimated the president may propose some changes in the tax bill as passed by the house and said such changes would be "advanced as promptly as practical."

Fight Coal Tariff

He also intimated the one cent a gallon duty on oil, contained in the bill might pass in the Senate, but said there was general opposition to the tariff on coal.

"Proponents of the oil tariff will insist that inasmuch as the tariff is already in the bill and would impose a duty of only one cent a gallon, it should not be discarded as a revenue producer," he said.

"On the other hand, the general opinion seems to question the justification for a tariff on coal since the importations are small and the exportations comparatively large."

Woman Appeals To Superior Court In Tangle Over $2,300

Los Angeles Woman Asks Court To Make Ruling Regarding Estate Money

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Apr. 12.—The superior court of Pennsylvania today had under consideration the appeal of Mrs. Etta Riderman of Los Angeles for possession of a $2,300 bank account alleged to have been left her by her brother, the late I. L. Crist of Albion, Pa.

Crist died in 1930. He named Mrs. Riderman executrix of his will in which he bequeathed his wife only $1. In 1924, however, he made his sister joint possessor of a bank account which at his death amounted to $2,300. The lower court ruled this amount was part of the estate and does not rightfully belong to Mrs. Riderman.

Counsel for the appellant claimed that Mrs. Riderman knew nothing of this bank account until after Crist's death. Counsel admitted that Crist had given the bank no written instructions because such a transaction could be made verbally and still be legal.

Carlton M. Randall, counsel for Mrs. Crist, pointed out that although the names of Crist and Mrs. Riderman appeared on the bank book and on various ledgers, all were in different handwriting. Moreover, he informed the court that Crist made no provision for burial without proof of written instructions. He contended the bank deposit belonged to the estate.

Y. W. Friendly Service Helping Women During Time Of Unemployment

The Friendly Service bureau of the Young Women's Christian Association was organized November 1, 1931, to try to help in the unemployment situation. Many women who had always been in their own homes found it necessary in this crisis to go out and do housework in some other woman's home in order that they might have food for their own families. It has been a time when all have a sisterly feeling and many women in their own homes have created work in order to help some other woman who was in need. This has not been done in any patronizing manner, but to tide some family over the hard straits in which they find themselves at this time.

A club of the young unemployed girls has been organized to meet at the Y. W. C. A. building every Monday from 2-4 p. m. They spend the hours in roller skating, bowling, sewing, etc. Miss Marian Wilson, secretary of the Girl Reserves, is the leader of this group and they call themselves the Modern Cinderella club. The educational committee of the Y. W. C. A. arranged with Mrs. Hiehle, teacher of domestic science in the senior high school to give this club ten lessons in cooking and for practice they have cooked and served a number of special dinners in the Green Room of the Y. W. under the direction of Mrs. Roy E. Long.

In cooperation with the Federation of Women's club, a sewing center was held every two weeks where needy women were taught to make over second hand garments and to make new ones. These garments were distributed among the women. The materials were furnished by the Associated Charities.

Pinchot Probing Huntingdon Deal

Governor Investigates Vire
Influence In Gaining Release Of Youths

Three New Jersey Youths
Spent Month In Reform
School, Money Alleged Paid

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 12.—Charging political interference with justice
by William S. Vire, Philadelphia
Republican leader, Gov. Gifford Pin-chot today launched a thorough probe of the release of three youths from Huntingdon reformatory where they had served one month of five-year sentences for felonies.

The startling accusation that not only Vire influence was used to gain the unlawful release of the prisoners but also that a monetary transaction was involved in the deal was made by the governor.

Governor Pinchot released for publication today a letter he addressed to the board of trustees of the Pennsylvania industrial school, at Huntingdon, in which he demanded an explanation of its conduct in this case.

Serious Charges.

The prisoners were Robert Pike,
John Baker and Guffy Farina, said to be Plainfield, N. J., residents.
They were found guilty of beating an employee of a gasoline station unconscious, of robbing the cash register of the station and of the theft of several automobiles, according to the executive's letter. Federal authorities are now investigating their cases.

Governor Pinchot declared he was in possession of definite information that Vire, operating through William R. Douglas, an employee in the auditor general's office, and Samuel Spyker of Huntingdon, induced Judge Thomas P. Bailey of Huntingdon to have Justice of the Peace I.
N. Faust of Mill Creek alter the charge on which Pike, Baker and Farina were convicted.

Says Money Involved.

The governor charged that he was informed a sum of money approximating somewhere between $800 and $1,000 was expended in the transaction.

"The parents of Pike paid most of this money and objected to further payment directly to the prison who acted as intermediary," the executive said in his letter.

He further charged that Pike's father said he would make additional payment in the form of a contribution to the campaign fund in Pennsylvania at any time it was needed.

Served One Month.

The governor alleged that the intermediary was Mrs. Edna McGreen, Westfield, N. J., operating as a relative by marriage of William S. Vire.
Pike, Baker and Farina were admitted to Huntingdon in July, 1931, and they were released on August 13, 1931, according to the governor's letter.

Vare Denies Charges.

PHILADELPHIA, April 12.—William S. Vare, titular Philadelphia

G. O. P. leader, today vehemently denied charges of Gov. Gifford Pin-chot anent the release of three prisoners from the Huntingdon reformatory.

"I never knew anything about this case," Vare said at his summer home in Ventnor, N. J. "I do not know Judge Bailey. I never heard of the young men involved. The whole thing is a surprise to me."

"I do think that had Governor
Pinchot received any information even remotely mentioning my name the decent and fair thing would have been for him to have communicated with me."

The governor's accusations were contained in a letter sent to the members of the board of trustees of the reformatory.

Vare also flatly denied any relationship to Mrs. Edna McGreen of Westfield, N. J., who was mentioned by Gov. Pinchot as an intermediary in the case. "I never even heard of the woman," Vare said. "I know nobody if Westfield."

Should Have Known Facts.
Mrs. McGreen also denied she was related in any way to Vare.

William R. Douglas, former secretary to Vare, declared: "If Mr. Pin-chot had known the real facts I am sure he would have rendered more aid than I did to restore the three boys to their parents."

"It's just another effort of the governor to get a little publicity."

Magazine Resumes Attack On Pinchot

Magazine Published By Farmers Continues Scathing Attack

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 12.—In a series of special articles, the "right of way" in its April number today again criticized the present conduct of the state administration.

The magazine is the official organ of the Pennsylvania Threshermen's and Farmers' Protective Association, an organization once friendly to the Pinchot cause.

Some of the subjects in the current issue are:

"State funds pay bills for Mrs.
Pinchot's political tea parties."
"Drys amazed at Pinchot 'wet' hook up, enforcement act dead letter."

"Less than $2,000,000 of $15,000-000 appropriated by 1931 legislature for unemployment work relief actually spent March 1, 1932."
The magazine also continued its campaign for repeal of the present school code and a drastic reduction of taxes spent for education. It charges that the long-accepted theory, "you can't spend too much for education," is a fallacy.

The payment of $1,000 in 12 days for entrance to the Kutztown
State Teachers College was cited as "an example of the kind of expenditures which are forcing the state appropriations for education to a high point and keeping them there."

Says Manchurian State Will Stay

Japanese Delegate To League Of Nations Makes Statement Today

(International News Service)
GENEVA, April 12.—The new Manchurian government established at Changchun under Henry Pu Yi is there to stay, Naotake Sato, Japanese delegate, informed the League of Nations council today.

Manchuria's separation from China is a definite and accomplished fact, Sato said.

"Japan," his note declared, "is ready to continue friendly military support of Independent Manchuria
as long as necessary."

In addressing the council, Sato ignored the league assembly's demand for information, thus denying application of Article X, of the league covenant to Manchuria.

HAS 130 PAROLED
PRISONERS IN HIS CHARGE AT PRESENT

MERCER, Pa., April 13.—Now on the books of Parole Officer Rev. W.
T. K. Thompson are 130 paroled and probated prisoners, that official announces.

The number is the smallest total of four years, the record shows, and is due to the number of prisoners that have served their term of parole, the reduced number of arrests of the past six months which has failed to keep the replacements on a par. The official states that his collection remains as previously reported.

Paroled prisoners like every other class of labor is suffering from results of the depression with the result that fines and costs assessed them are being reduced slowly.

The Rainbow girls will assemble ents will attend with them.

but he can make it seem a trifle by comparison.

New Trial Granted In Ellison Case

Trouble Grew Out Of Contract
For Plumbing At Lawrence
Auto Co. Addition

Judge James A. Chambers handed down an opinion this morning in which he granted a new trial in the case of John R. Ellison against the Lawrence Automobile company. At the trial of the case, which grew out of a plumbing contract, the jury awarded Ellison a verdict of $1,229. It is claimed by Ellison that he made a verbal agreement with L. C. John, president and manager of the Lawrence Automobile company, in connection with the erection of an addition to the company's building. According to the plaintiff he was to be employed as a plumber at $1.50 per hour. Supplies were to be bought in his name in order to get the whole sale price, and for the use of his name he was to get $250. Ellison claims further that he was to get 10 per cent on material and labor for looking after the work. The defendant admits the contract so far as the $1.50 per hour and the payment of $250 for the use of Ellison's name is concerned, but denies that he was to get 10 per cent on material and labor.

It is also alleged by defendant that a full settlement was made on December 31, 1931. The court grants the motion for a new trial on a point raised on the court's charge to the jury and new evidence.

Nebraska Voters Casting Ballots In Primary Today

Roosevelt Contests With Garner And Murray
For 16 Nebraska
Votes

GOVERNOR FIGHT IS INTERESTING

(International News Service)
LINCOLN, Neb., Apr. 12—The race for delegates to the Democratic national convention and the contests for governor were the most interesting features in this states primary election today.

On the Democratic presidential preference ballot appeared the names of Speaker John N. Garner, Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Gov. William H. Murray. Gov. Roosevelt was favored, as prominent Nebraska Democrats staged a campaign in his behalf. There was little campaigning for Garner, Gov. Murray made a short speaking tour through the state.

Gov. Murray charged the Roosevelt forces spent $50,000 in an effort to get Nebraska's sixteen votes. Arthur Mullen, Roosevelt campaign manager, thereupon filed an affidavit that expenditures had not exceeded $200.

On the Republican side there was only one presidential candidate former Senator Joseph I. France of Maryland. Practically all the Republican delegate candidates are for President Hoover.

Gov. Charles W. Bryan and William Ritchie Jr., a cousin of Gov. Ritchie of Maryland, were the chief candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Leading Republican aspirants were Dwight Griswold, Kenneth S. Wherry and George A. Williams.

East Brook Ready For Troop's Debut

Town Grange Hall To Be
Scene Of Meet Tonight;
Investiture Later

Interested boys and men of East-brook are fast lining up behind the work necessary to have a full-fledged scout troop in that community, and tonight there will be a meeting at the Grange hall at 7:30 for the purpose of explaining the work and starting regular troop meetings in preparation for investing the candidates as a troop.

Boys who are eligible (who have passed their twelfth and not passed their eighteenth birthdays, and who have their parents' written consent) apply for membership and start work on the primary (or tenderfoot) scout work. When the over-head organization is completed, when at least eight boys have qualified and been registered, the group is ready for formal investiture; and an active troop puts on this ceremony at a public meeting where certificates are presented, leaders and scouts given the scout oath, and the group formally launched as a numbered scout troop.

O. P. Pink and W. O. Kerr are lining up as scoutmaster-elect and troop committee representative, respectively and a group of local East-brook citizens will back up this work.

Two Court Cases Still Being Heard

Mrs. Taman Nahas Undergoing
Searching Examination In Insurance Case

The case of Mrs. Taman Nahas against the Monarch Mechanics and Reliable Fire Insurance Companies, which was taken up before Judge R. L. Hildebrand yesterday is still on trial today. It is necessarily tedious, as there is a large inventory of the goods which were burned in the Nahas fire, and Mrs. Nahas, the plaintiff, is being put through rigid examinations as to the costs of the goods and their value at the time of the fire.

The case of Willie Sheppard against the Liberty Dairy Cartage Company, which was taken up before Judge James A. Chambers yesterday, is also still on trial. This is a case growing out of an automobile accident on the New Castle-Warrenton road, near the Piedmont farm.

Court Sustains Verdict Of Jury

Award Of $1 Stands In Anetio
Genock Case Growing Out
Of Dance Floor Episode

New trial was refused by Judge James A. Chambers this morning in the case of Anetio Genock against the New Castle Electric Street Railway company. The case grew out of trouble at Cascade park dancing pavilion on the night of June 28, 1930.

R. M. McDowell, a park policeman, was alleged to have handled Genock roughly in forcing him from the dancing pavilion. Genock claimed at the trial that he was doing anything for which he should have been ejected, and that the action of the policeman was in the nature of an attack.

McDowell died before the case came to trial. Helen Shaner was one of the principal witnesses for the prosecution. She told of seeing Genock talking to McDowell, and while she could not hear what was being said, she designated Genock's attitude as "sarcastic." Genock was joined by friends, whose conduct, Mrs. Shaner said was also "sarcastic." Finally she saw McDowell grab Genock by the cuff of the neck and the seat of the trousers and force him off the dancing floor.

While it was not shown at the trial that Genock suffered any serious injury, he claimed damages on account of humiliation. The jury awarded him $1. Motion was made for a new trial but by the court's opinion the $1 verdict stands.

The most encouraging feature of the proposed cut in the pay of congressmen is that some of them may be held-outs.—The Schenectady Gazette.

Shade Tree Commission Plans Beautiful City

Shade tree commission met Tuesday morning in the city council chamber with Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger and Mrs. W. C. Eckenrood of the commission and Mayor Charles E. Mayne, who is an ex-officio member of the same, in attendance and transacted business of importance to the community.

First of all, the commission adopted a slogan, which is to be the ultimate objective of the commission. The slogan speaks for itself "New Castle, The Most Beautiful Third Class City in the State of Pennsylvania."

In line with this objective, the commission determined on a number of public meetings for the purpose of inculcating in the minds of old and young alike, an appreciation of trees and plant life of all kinds.

The first of these meetings will be a free lecture by a representative of the state on April 28 in the Senior high school auditorium. There will be colored slides and music. There will be no charge.

In May the commission hopes to have a lecture and have present Martin L. Davey of tree surgery fame. There will be colored slides. It is also planned to have Temple Bailey give her lecture on "The Town Beautiful" in the immediate future.

There was also discussion on the prospect of putting on a park project for the north hill.

Permission of Lewis Staley head of the state waterways and forest commission has been received to go to the Pymatuning Swamp and secure rare flowers and shrubs, which the shade tree commission will plant here in a place designated by the park commission. Dr. Ralph W. Waldron of Slippery Rock State Teachers College, will go with the local commissioners to see that the desired flowers and shrubs are secured.

A survey of the city is to be made by the commission relative to the shade tree conditions of the streets. It is planned to get various streets in competition for the beautifying of their streets. The Garden club will make the survey. The city engineer has provided maps showing streets in green lines where there are shade trees and with red lines where there is a lack of the same. Prizes of fine shrubbery are planned for the winning streets.

At the suggestion of the commission, the Garden club is visiting the schools through the medium of its school committee and forming tree clubs in the various schools.

The commission passed a resolution thanking The News for the publicity given.

Flowery Greeting at Hawaii

Literally loaded down with Hawaiian hospitality, in the form of the traditional leis, Clarence Darrow, world-famous criminal lawyer, and Mrs. Darrow are shown on their arrival at Honolulu. Darrow is in the "Pacific Paradise" as chief defense counsel for Mrs. Granville Fortescue and her fellow accused in the celebrated "honor-slaying" case.

Darrow Respects Young Opponent

High Compliment Paid Honolulu Prosecutor By Veteran Clarence Darrow

INTENSE LEGAL BATTLE LOOMS

(Copyright, 1932, by International News Service, Inc.)

HONOLULU, T. H., April 12.—In the center of the arena of the Fortescue-Massie trial are two deft fencers of the legal craft—Prosecutor John C. Kelley, and Chief Defense Counsel Clarence Darrow.

Kelley is an Irishman, young, nimble-witted, and at the start of what may be a brilliant career. He has admitted that his task of prosecuting the four Americans accused of the "honor slaying" of a native is an onerous one, but he has followed the dictates of his profession and presented an able case.

Darrow, nearing his 75th birthday, is one of the greatest defenders of modern times, his indifferent posture, in contrast to the immaculate, alert Kelley, mask an intellect that has seen few equals in American courts.

Darrow has for his young opponent the highest respect.

When court was concluded yesterday, the polygot jury retired with Kelley's terse opening speech ringing in their ears, Darrow sauntered carelessly to the state's table.

"As much as I dislike to say it at this time young man, I must confess your summing up before the jury was a masterly effort," said Darrow in a low voice.

Kelley blushed and stammered at this unexpected praise from the famous veteran, and Darrow smiled pleasantly at the upturned face of the young prosecutor.

"I certainly appreciate your courtesy, and as soon as the trial is concluded I want the opportunity to get better acquainted with you," said Kelly, recovering his poise.

"That wish is entirely mutual and we will get together," Darrow replied in a friendly fashion. The great lawyer then returned to his conferees and plunged into a preparation of his case.

Relative Dies Fighting Fire In California

Gilbert James, John street, received word today of the death of his nephew, Edward Hunter, who was killed April 2 at Riverside, Calif., while on duty fighting a fire.

Mr. Hunter was twenty-nine years of age and was born in New Castle, the son of Dr. Joseph G. and Ola Ball Hunter, and lived here until twelve years ago, when he went to California.

He is survived by his parents, a sister, Anna and a brother, Warren, all of Ellensburg, Calif.

He was interred at Ellensburg.

MELROSE, Mass., April 12.—In the new $500,000 Memorial Hall are signs reading:

"Smoking in the hall or possession of intoxicating liquors in or about the premises is strictly prohibited."

Town fathers were surprised at such a sign. It was a smudge upon "the spoils town."

Investigation revealed that two bushel baskets of "dead soldiers" and at least two pecks of cigarette butts were gathered up after every social function.

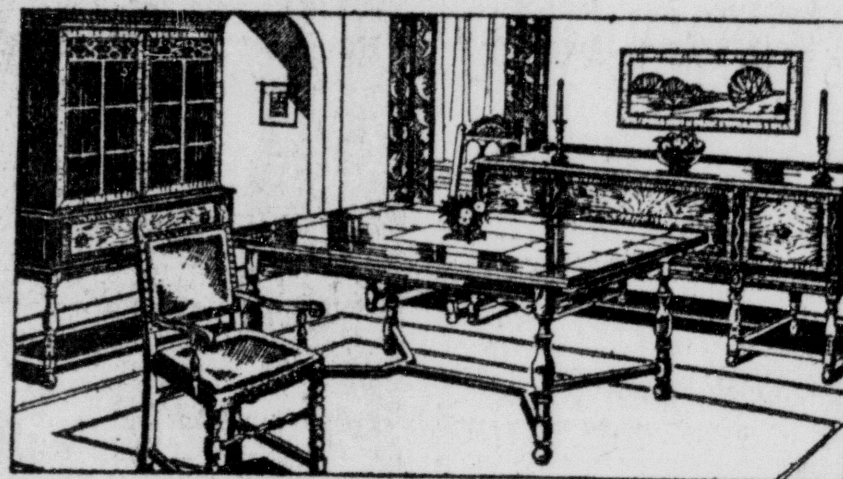

The next function will be watched—but it happens to be the policemen's ball.

Returns Tigerless

Disillusioned about the thrilling game of tiger hunting, Hamilton M. Wright, New York advertising man, is shown on his return to the home burgh after a big game shikari in North Burma, India. Though Wright sent Burmese bullock stock soaring, owing to the quantity of bovines he bought for tiger bait, he didn't get a single shot at a striped cat. He could have bought a skin for $7.50, but he decided it would not be sporting.

Many Prayers Are Offered Monday Night In First Methodist Church For Revival

Between 500 and 600 men and women of the city assembled Monday evening in the First Methodist church to hear Evangelist George T. Stevens, North Carolina evangelist, and to join in united prayer for a revival in the city as well as in the whole country.

The Musical Whites sang some appropriate sacred music and after the deliverance of an especially strong and forceful evangelistic sermon by Mr. Stevens, the assemblage divided into groups for prayer.

The young men in the audience formed a group, the young women a group, and the adults separated into bands and each entered into a devout period of prayer.

GIRL ASKS $10,000 FOR LOSS OF VOICE

(International News Service)

DETROIT, April 12.—Opera singers may value their vocal cords but so does Annie Tashner. The ten-year old girl also values her beauty.

The combination of lost beauty and damaged vocal cords is worth $10,000, according to the suit filed for the girl against Dr. J. C. Toole and the Buhl estate, owners of the building housing Dr. Toole's office.

Attorneys for the child claim that she was struck by a pane of glass which fell from the window of the dentist's office in 1929. Since then, it was alleged, she has stammered, and has been disfigured by a scar.

"The invention of machinery never does permanent injury to workers." Huh! What about the horse fly and the sparrow?

How strange that congress should contain the only people in America who don't know how to solve our national problems.

Science says nothing is impossible, but it probably hasn't observed all of the presidential possibilities.

Game Officials Inspect Jordan State Game Farm

Commission Officials Find
Conditions At Farm
Satisfactory

SOME PHEASANTS ALREADY LAYING

Charles A. Hiller, Chief of Bureau of Game Propagation and Distribution and Harry VanCleave, Assistant Chief of Bureau of Predatory Animals of the Board of Game Commissioners made an inspection of the Jordan State Game Farm near Harrisburg on Friday of last week. Mr. Hiller checked up on the number and condition of birds on hand for the laying season, and general conditions about the farm, where preparations have been made for a busy hatching season and Mr. VanCleave devoted his attention to the check up of the vermin situation in the vicinity of the farm and they look forward, hopeful of a very productive laying and hatching season.

The pheasants, which are now in the laying pens, are in exceptionally good condition and very few were lost through the winter. The mild open winter allowed them to get natural green food most all winter and excepting the few that were killed by passing vermin, practically none were lost, which permitted the filling of the laying pens with a fine lot of birds a few of which have already started to lay. The breeders being held at the Jordan Farm this year consist of 1390 hens and 275 male birds and are all held in three fields of 200 hens and 45 males each and 140 individual mating pens of 5 hens and 1 male each. A careful check is to be made on the results obtained by both methods and also on results of different feeding methods.

While certain restrictive measures must be maintained during the laying and brooding seasons and visitors cannot be allowed inside the laying fields, the public is welcome at the farm which, excepting the above mentioned fields, is open to the public for inspection and every possible courtesy will be shown visitors by the employees of the farm.

LOOKING BACK

IN NEW CASTLE

The disastrous fire of last night, which resulted in the destruction of the plant of the Citizens Lumber company recalls to memory quite a number of similar fires that have occurred here in plants of the same kind in the past twenty-five or thirty years. The actual destruction done last night was at least as great as in any of the former lumber plant fires and the loss probably exceeded the losses in most of the other fires of a similar character. Among the spectacular lumber plant fires of this city that compare with the fire of last evening in spectacular effect and loss were those of the Lawrence Lumber company on South Mill street, the last big fire at the former South Mercer street plant of the New Castle Lumber and Construction company. Another very destructive fire of this character was that which destroyed the seventh ward plant of Wallace Brothers. Then there was the fire that destroyed the Mahoning Lumber company plant near the New Cedar street. Then there were the fires that did great damage to the Weingartner plant just east of the city about two years ago. And there will be the memory of the serious of incendiary fires in the lumber plants of the city quite a number of years ago, in which the losses sustained were quite extensive. In fact there has scarcely ever been a lumber plant in the city in the past thirty years, that did not at some time or other furnish a very spectacular and costly fire.

Fractures Hip In Fall At Home

Has Been Removed To The New Castle Hospital
For Treatment

William Delaney, well known resident of Northview avenue, is confined to the New Castle hospital with a fractured hip, which he sustained within the past few days at his home. He is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances. The injury was sustained when he fell but a short distance in sustaining the fracture of his hip.

Makes You Lose Unhealthy Fat

Mrs. Ethel Smith of Norwich, Conn., writes: "I lost 15 lbs. with my first bottle of Kruschen. Being a night duty it was hard to sleep days but now since I am taking Kruschen I sleep plenty, eat as usual and lose fat, too."

"To take off fat—take one half tea-spoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a few cents. Get it at Eckerd's Cut Rate, New Castle Drug Co., or any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this the SAFE and harmless way to lose fat—your money gladly returned."

Don't accept anything but Kruschen because you must reduce safely.

Batting Average Of Unlucky Thief Is Less Than Zero

John Gerber, 32, Convinced That Crime Does
Not Pay

(International News Service)
DETROIT, Apr. 12.—John Gerber, 32, has found that crime does not pay.

He has a rather imposing record for robbery, larceny and burglary, but his choice of victims has been invidious.

Gerbers first try at crime was in Los Angeles, where a burglary netted him three cents and two years in San Quentin penitentiary. The next try, a larceny produced two second-hand suits far too large for the slender Gerber and a cell in Folsom prison for three years and three months.

John decided a change in location might improve his luck and came to Detroit. His first job he bungled when he selected a hosiery store to rob. Pedestrians saw him at work, through curtainless windows and called police.

Judge John W. McKay Skillman sent him to Marquette prison for five to fifteen years and even that was the result of John's genius for wrong pickings.

"I never had a break in all my life, Judge," he said, "don't send me to Jackson, make it Marquette, will you?"

Marquette is considered a "Si-beria" to prisoners.

Dr. Clendening Tells How Brain Utilizes Sugar For Functioning

Theory That All Tissues Of Body Use All Foodstuffs In Equal Proportion Wrong, Physician Says

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
It appears that we will have to give up the fish idea. The intellectual giants can stop eating whales. The latest studies show that the brain lives on sugar.

For many years physiologists have assumed that all tissues in the body utilize all the food stuffs in about equal proportions. That, in other words, protein, fat and carbohydrate were used equally for energy by all parts of the body. The first suggestion that there was some selection exercised was the discovery that muscle satisfied its needs with fat and sugar alone.

Turning their attention to the brain, several investigators have been able to show that this organ uses nothing except sugar in performing its functions. Arterial blood going to the brain is much richer in sugar than the venous blood coming away from it. But there is no change in the fat and protein supply of the two streams of blood. The brain is the only organ we know about which does not need any fat.

People who have diabetes may feel happy to know that the brain uses sugar without requiring any insulin. It seems to be only the muscles which use insulin. So the diabetic patient as far as our evidence goes, thinks just as well as anybody else.

Send your banker, therefore, a five pound box of candy and let's get the depression over. If you hear that your favorite author is going in strong for ice cream sodas you may expect another masterpiece soon.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS
R. J. H.: I believe you mentioned in your column once a remedy or treatment for Riggs disease, commonly called "trench mouth." Will you please repeat it?

Answer: Strictly speaking Riggs disease and trench mouth are not the same thing. Riggs disease is the name sometimes given to pyorrhea, which is an infection of the gums around the teeth from many different causes. Trench mouth is usually restricted to an infection of the gums with the germs known as "Vincent's infection." The treatment of Riggs disease is both mechanical and medical. The mechanical part of it is to free the teeth from tartar and incrustations and remove the source of infection between the gums and the teeth. The medical treatment is by various antiseptics and applications to the gums, and sometimes the use of emetine in cases where pyorrhea is due to infection with amoeba.

S. L.: "My left eye constantly tears; the lacrimal duct is obstructed. Would you advise leaving it as it is?"

Answer: I would not advise leaving it as it is because the condition is very annoying and treatment in most cases, successful. The treatment must be carried out by an oculist and consists of dilation of the lacrimal duct with a probe. It is a common occurrence and all oculists are familiar with the procedure.

J. A.: "Six years ago I had ulcerative colitis. I am better now but I wonder whether it is probable that these ulcers will turn cancerous?"

Answer: There is no instance of the ulcers of ulcerative colitis turning into cancer.

New Decoration Available To Vets

Government Re-Establishes Order Of Purple Heart For Distinguished Soldiers

Advice have been received by the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, of the institution by the War Department of the Order of Purple Heart, instituted by General George Washington.

This was the first honor badge in the history of the United States provided for enlisted men and non-commissioned officers, but is also given to commissioned officers and nurses. It was discontinued many years ago, but has now been re-established.

For acts of service performed prior to February 22, 1932, it will be given to all those who were members of the U. S. Army who received the Meritorious Citation Certificate during the World War from the commander in chief; or those authorized to wear a wound chevron; or those persons not authorized prior to February 22, 1932, to wear a wound chevron, who would have been, had they applied.

It will be necessary to make application for this decoration to the Adjutant General, War Department, Washington, D. C., giving military identification and a brief summary of the reason the applicant believes he is entitled to this decoration.

Car Inspection Must Be Thorough

Several Local Stations Have Inspection License Revoked

Proprietors of places designated as inspection stations for automobiles who approve cars which have not been inspected properly will be arrested and upon conviction, may have to pay a fine of $25.00 and costs, according to State Highway Patrol Corporal Lawton. He said today that several places in this city which had been designated as inspection stations have had the license revoked for failure to properly inspect cars.

FRIEND TOLD HIM ABOUT ALL-BRAN

And It Brought Relief From Constipation

Those who are bothered with constipation should read Mr. Gelpke's unsolicited letter:

"I have suffered with constipation for years. A friend of mine told me to try ALL-BRAN. I have taken ALL-BRAN for the past six weeks as a breakfast food. It has regulated my bowels as clockwork. Now I would not be without a package at all times." — Mr. Leslie Gelpke, 273 Ridgewood Ave., Newark, N. J.

Common constipation—with its headaches, loss of appetite, sleeplessness—is due to lack of "bulk" to exercise the intestines. Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. Both are present in Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, as well as iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes. Being a natural corrective, ALL-BRAN is not habit-forming.

Try ALL-BRAN in place of pills and drugs—so often harmful. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily—serious cases with every meal. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

In the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Economic Cure Is Not Well Liked By Police In Erie, Pa.

(International News Service)
ERIE, Pa., Apr. 12.—Repression and depression brought an ingenious, but unsuccessful, economic cure into the open Monday. Depressed because his desire for work was repressed, William Kennedy, 32, nude and unblushing, shocked Erie housewives by going from door to door with this clarion cry: "Either Hoover gives me a job or I'll shame him!"

He was arrested, reprimanded and discharged. A worried looking desk sergeant observed: "I only hope this guy's idea doesn't spread. It just ain't subtle enough to be sound practice."

"A friend of mine who works for a large stocking company told me how to make my stockings wear."

"Don't wash away the elasticity of the silk," she said—"because then the stocking threads, instead of giving under strain, break. The least little pull, when you bend, stretch or fasten your garters, and you've got a run!"

"I know Lux is made to preserve elasticity. So I've been washing my stockings in Lux and now even my sheerest ones wear!"

*The Lux Way to save the ELASTICITY
that makes stockings
FIT and WEAR

Wash after EACH wearing. Perspiration left in the stocking or lingerie will actually rot the silk.

Don't rub with cake soap. It destroys the elasticity of the silk, leaving it lifeless, apt to break into runs, ill-fitting. With Lux there's no rubbing.

Avoid ordinary soaps—cakes, powders, chips. These often contain harmful alkali which weakens and fades silk.

Lux has no harmful alkali. Anything safe in water is safe in Lux.

Don't use too-warm water—it fades color. With Lux you use lukewarm water. No hot water needed.

Wash this 2-minute way:

1. One teaspoon of Lux diamonds for each pair.
2. Add lukewarm water to Lux, squeeze through stockings, rinse.

Weekly Health Talk
"Any physician thoroughly appreciates the fact that human beings are exceedingly individualistic. For that reason generalization on anything connected with the workings of the body are likely to miss fire except where the so-called fundamentals are concerned. And even here marked divergencies are always to be found," states Doctor Theodore B. Appel, State Secretary of Health.
"It is quite proper that continual emphasis should be presented upon the basic bodily requirements of fresh air, exercise, good and sufficient food, internal sanitation, recreation and rest. But it also must be recognized that people react quite differently under similar conditions and therefore allowance must be made for this very obvious fact. And while it is unwise to decry the importance of the fundamentals by citing instances of people who have lived to a ripe old age apparently in defiance of all health rules, it is equally foolish not to recognize that even general requirements can have a reasonable latitude in their application."
"Take, for example, the question of sleep. No one can deny that the average mature person usually needs eight hours of it out of twenty-four. On the other hand, there is no reason to be appalled if a few of one's contemporaries get along nicely with less. The point is that sleep requirements in a comparatively small class are decidedly minimized. It follows that each person must discover for himself what the healthy sleep quota must be; and being thus apprized, govern himself accordingly.

"In the last analysis then, the sleep problem resolves itself into getting sufficient rest each night to satisfy the healthy demands of the individual involved.
"The real difficulty arises, however, when the individual having determined his sleep requirements, then turns his back upon them and tries to get along with less. Consistently attempting to keep up with the six and seven hour exception when one is in the eighth hour category is taking entirely unjustifiable chances which inevitably will lead to a debilitated constitution, or worse.
"The only safe rule then to follow is to get the rest which your particular body needs each night; and this, irrespective of the other fellow's habits or of the so-called demands upon your time. Long life will be somewhat determined upon a rational sleep attitude."

DINNER AND DANCE TO FEATURE EVENING

Under the auspices of the Shade Tree Commission of the city, an illustrated lecture on trees will be delivered in the Senior high school on the evening of April 23, by a representative of the State Department of Forest and Waters.

Either L. E. Staley, head of the department or his assistant, Francis Mulvihill will be present on this occasion, definite word as to whom it will be having not been received as yet by the commission.

Use of the high school has been granted for this occasion by the school board and the senior high school will assist in the program as will Paul H. Welsh, who will sing "Trees."

The slogan of the Shade Tree Commission is "New Castle, the most beautiful of third class cities in the state," and the members are making every effort to have this slogan fulfilled.

Nearly 500 Seek Jobs As Teachers

Despite the fact that there will be but few vacancies in the New Castle schools to fill this year, the host of applicants for schools continues in Dr. C. C. Greens office. Thus far there are approximately 475 applications for schools.

There will be some few vacancies occur but insofar as it is possible these will be filled from the list of teachers whose contracts were revoked on account of the temporary abandonment of certain classes and departments.

NEW SHREDDED BISCUIT TOASTED ON TOP AND BOTTOM

Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit Bring Many Improvements

One of the new foods that is attracting attention is the improved Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit. The new Kellogg's Biscuit is cooked by a special "pressure process" that bakes in delightful flavor and retains the full food value of the whole wheat. At the same time, it makes the biscuit easier to digest.

Every biscuit is toasted a rich, golden brown on both top and bottom—not just one side. They are much crispier. And they come in a more economical, convenient size. Two biscuits just fit the cereal bowl and there are 15 to the package.

"Because of 'pressure-cooking,'" Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuits are unusually rich in food value. In fact, every package is certified by the Medical Arts Laboratory of Philadelphia—which fact should be of special interest to mothers.

Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit and hot or cold milk or cream are a delicious well-balanced food for both children and grown-ups—rich in minerals and vitamins. A tasty treat for breakfast, lunch, children's suppers—any meal.

Grocers are displaying this new shredded biscuit. You can identify it by the name, Kellogg's, and the red-and-green packages. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Hawks To Be Tried In Texas Court

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 12—Although Otis E. Hawks, wanted here on 33 indictments in connection with alleged mortgage frauds 10 years ago, was ordered returned to Houston, Tex., today from Baltimore, Md., today from Baltimore, Md., still hopes to get him back here for trial.

Thomas attended a hearing at Baltimore at which United States Commissioner Frank J. Supplee ordered Hawk sent to Texas, and when Supplee set bond at $3,000, Thomas protested. He told the court that the frauds here might run from $250,000 to $500,000, and insisted that the bond be higher. Supplee then set it at $25,000.

Hawks victimized many Lawrence county people by the sale of fake mortgages.

HUNDREDS OF GUARDS WATCH ILLINOIS POLLS

Illinois Voters At Polls Today, Police On Guard

About 2,000,000 Illinois Voters Cast Ballots In Primary Elections

BITTER CAMPAIGN DRAWS TO CLOSE

Governor, U. S. Senator, Congress And Many Important Minor Offices Sought

By WEST PETERSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, April 12.—About 2,000,000 Illinois voters went to the polls today to name party candidates and elect delegates to the National Conventions.

From the Wisconsin line to "Little Egypt," ballots were marked for Governor, U. S. Senator, members of Congress and minor state offices. In addition, there were scores of local contests.

Special Armed Police
On guard after a torrid 90-day period of campaigning, authorities ordered out hundreds of special armed police and deputies to quell any violence. Between 40,000 and 50,000 persons sought to insure an orderly election in Chicago and suburbs.

Of peculiar significance was the election of delegates to the Republican convention. Bernard W. Snow, veteran political leader, predicted success in his move to name a slate opposed to President Hoover.

Citizens voted on two candidates in the presidential preference column. U. S. Senator James Hamilton Lewis, Democrat, and former Senator Joseph I. France, Republican. Delegates are not bound by the preference expressed.

State's Attorney Fight
Interest was manifest in the race for the Republican nomination for State's Attorney of Cook County. Judge Michael Feinberg, one of the candidates, has called a special grand jury to probe charges that Al Capone's minions sought to influence the primary. Feinberg was opposed by the incumbent, John A. Swanson, who has jailed many gangsters.

The election of officers resulted in Thomas P. Moorehead, J. Ed White and William M. Moody being chosen trustees; elders, George W. Ramsey, W. H. Aubel, W. C. Kennedy, H. L. Elder, Ross Kirkpatrick and Charles G. Martin; music committee, Mrs. J. Norman Martin and E. E. Seavy; deacons, W. G. Andrews, M. A. Reed and Kenneth Staley; deaconesses, Mrs. Joe S. McKee and Mrs. Robert McKinney White.

The church treasurer, Maude W. Elder, was re-elected; George C. White is secretary of the congregation and the auditors named were: James A. Rugh, George Long, Gilbert Long and Sam McCracken.

Highland Church Annual Meeting

The annual congregational meeting of the Highland U. P. church will be held Wednesday evening at 7:45, at which time the reports of the various treasurers of the church departments will be heard.

The question of selecting a new pastor will be brought before the congregation and there will be an election of officers. The terms of W. J. Offutt and Irvine Ralph as elders will expire, as will those of Lee Allen and John Haven as trustees. The vacancy caused by the death of W. G. Eckles, trustee, will be filled.

ADMINISTRATOR IS DEFENDANT IN SUITS

Four suits have been filed at the prothonotary's office against John M. Bevan, administrator in the estate of the late Margaret L. Martin. The suits are by L. W. Crane, trustee for W. D. Crane and son, for $65; George Duddy for $161.45; Dr. Charles Scofield, $36, and Dorothy Pritchard for about the same amount.

NO RAILROAD DELAYS

Neither the Pennsylvania nor the P. and L. E. railroad had any trains over their East side branches last night to be delayed by the Citizens Lumber company fire. Fire lines were laid across both the Pennsy's New Castle-Stoneboro branch tracks and the Lake Erie's East side yard connecting line.

Stock Runs High For May Queen

An outstanding candidate for May Queen of Hood college, at Frederick, Md., Miss Eleanor Rawles, of Clearfield, Pa., will take a prominent part in the annual revels of the Maryland women's college to be staged on the campus on May 1. The queen will not be announced until the morning of May Day when members of lower classes will serenade her at dawn under her window.

Stock Exchange Inquiry Resumed

Richard Whitney, Stock Exchange Head, Will Be Recalled To Testify

NEW ATTORNEY FOR GOVERNMENT

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, April 12.—After blaming the administration for the last bull market and denying its charges that bear raids smashed prices in recent weeks, Richard Whitney, president of the New York Stock Exchange, was recalled to the witness stand today at a resumption of the Senate inquiry into short selling.

While Whitney appeared to take all honors at the opening session, administration leaders were determined to prove their charges that speculators have systematically raided the market in order to slash stock and bond values. There were reports the administration would call a "mystery witness" after Whitney in order to reveal an "inside story" of manipulation of the market.

New Lawyer Sought
Claude R. Branch, Providence, R. I., the committee's attorney, may be displaced too by a lawyer more experienced with market transactions. Several administration Senators were disappointed at Branch's interrogation of Whitney, a contest in which Whitney gave much testimony against the administration and none to substantiate its charges.

The committee will limit its inquiry to movements in thirty or forty prominent stocks, including United States Steel, American Telephone and Telegraph, Public Service of New Jersey and Consolidated Gas of New York. Reports of a huge bear raid against these four provoked the administration into forcing the short-selling inquiry.

Franklin Girls Are Giving Play

The girls are planning a Mothers' Tea for May 10. A program will be given at that time. The president will talk about the club, explain the work to the mothers and show them through the building.

Foremen's Club Will Push Chest Drive In City

Club Promises Aid After Hearing Talk By H. N. Wasser Last Night

Have Interesting Program After Business Meeting In Auditorium

ELLWOOD CITY, Apr. 12.—The Community Chest drive will have the whole-hearted support of the Foremen's Club of the local National Tube Company when the drive starts on the week of May 23.

This was the resolution passed by the Foremen's Club at their regular monthly meeting in the Shelby Club House last night after hearing a talk by H. N. Wasser an executive of the company and head of the Community Service League of this city.

Mr. Wasser in a very clear manner brought to the mind the wonderful work done by the Community Service League and the local hospital. It was revealed that the latter has had few paying patients for the last few months. The league also has been extended to its full capabilities to render all the necessary aid. Neither will be in any serious plight before the Community Chest drive is over, but it will be more than necessary to raise the set quota, whatever it may be. Mr. Wasser presented some figures telling how the Foremen's Club alone may render invaluable aid to this cause.

There was a general discussion on the subject after Mr. Wasser's remarks. Rep. Charles Z. Bell, well-known in the company gave his hearty approval for Mr. Wasser's suggestions. Superintendent J. W. Offutt stated that the Foremen should take it upon themselves and see that the drive goes over the top in their plant, and then give every possible assistance outside. He explained that Ellwood City has always taken care of its own. The community is really better off than in the surrounding country. Ellwood City is a Utopia compared to the conditions in McKeesport, it was revealed by two speakers from that city. Mr. Offutt was also high in the praise of the work being done by the local Community Service League.

C. E. Sankey, formerly of the local plant, and now superintendent of Safety and Waste Prevention in a Pittsburgh plant, asserted that he was anxious to see Ellwood City come out on top as it has always done, not only in the chest drive but in safety as well. "There is no community without charity. Don't save at this time, when the money is needed in circulation more than ever. Back up your community service" were the words of advice given by Mr. Sankey.

When asked if they would give their support to the problems laid before them, there was not a dissenting vote in the body of over 150 foremen.

Discussion on the community chest drive was preceded by the club's customary business meeting. Amendments to the constitution were adopted at this time and the treasurer's report received. The club then adjourned to hold an informal group discussion on community welfare which was later followed by a general discussion.

The evening's program was presented by the Hot Mills department in charge of Superintendent J. E. Powell, and it was on the history of steel tube. It was devoted to the work and problems of that department. Mr. Powell, Paul Plantz and James A. Hereford led in this discussion. The work was emphasized by charts and further explained by moving pictures. Music by a string orchestra composed of Hot Mill men was furnished throughout the evening. After the moving pictures the club adjourned for its regular social time and enjoyed the facilities of the club.

Dr. S. Williams Addresses Local Rod And Gun Club

Famed Pittsburgh Naturalist Is Principal Speaker At Monthly Meeting Here

ELLWOOD CITY, April 12.—It was a perfect evening for those who were able to attend the monthly meeting of the Ellwood City Rod and Gun Club in the Schweiger Hall last night. The turnout to hear Dr. Samuel Williams, the famed Naturalist and Professor Zoology at the University of Pittsburgh, was so great that many had to be turned away. Dr. Williams is also the president of the Pennsylvania Academy of Science and a member of the Board of Game Commissioners.

A short business meeting preceded Dr. Williams' address in which routine matters were disposed.

The speaker's subject was "A Naturalist in the Jungle," in which he told of the lost land of South America, situated between the Amazon and the Orinoco Rivers. Very clearly he pictured the life of the animals and reptiles in that land of hardships. The place was infested with insects and pests that made human life unendurable. Men were always in danger of typhoid fever because of poor water. He explained that the dense jungles were like the roofs over your homes, where little light penetrated, giving an appearance of night at high noon.

Dr. Williams' address was highly instructive as well as entertaining and he was heartily applauded by the large assemblage.

The evening's program also included some popular xylophone selections by Eugene Hartman of Beaver Falls and a humorous sketch by Sam Rice and Joe Cowan, and a violin solo by Sam Rice. Mr. Lunch followed this.

It was announced that O. M. Tiebler, president of the Fish commission here has been secured to address the club at its next meeting on May 9.

Baseball Season Officially Starts Today

Big League Teams Scamper To Action

Season Of 1932 Finds Salaries Of Players Slashed Several Thousands

Magnates Expect Big Crowds To See Openers, Hoover Throws Out First Ball

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, April 12.—Sixteen ball clubs, comprising the two major leagues, National and American, formally, officially and with considerable eclat and a ceremonial ballgame will embark this afternoon on the 1932 season of 154 games.

In a scattering of ball parks from Boston to St. Louis the cry of "play ball!" will be the signal for thousands of baseball-hungry fans to uncork the enthusiasm they have kept bottled all winter.

Expect Big Crowds

Fully 300,000 spectators will witness the grand opening provided, of course, that weather conditions are half decent. The setting throngs in the various parks will include the usual crop of office boys whose grandmothers have just died and the mayors and other dignitaries who will risk their throwing arms by tossing out "the first ball."

The season actually opened for two of the American League clubs yesterday. The Senators played host to the Boston Red Sox. The unveiling of the campaign in Washington a full day in advance of the other teams is an act of courtesy to the President of the United States.

Hoover Throws Ball

President Hoover occupied a box and threw out the first ball. In addition to his cabinet members, Congressmen and other notables.

But in reality today marked the formal opening of the season, the beginning of the pennant races. The Washington inaugural is simply a little advance ballgame.

Today's games were scheduled as follows:

National League: Philadelphia at New York; Boston at Brooklyn; Chicago at Cincinnati; Pittsburgh at St. Louis.

American League: New York at Philadelphia; Washington at Boston; Cleveland at Detroit; St. Louis at Chicago.

While clear and cold weather was generally forecast by the weather men for today's opening in the middle west, there was a threat of rain for games in the east.

Salaries Slashed

The baseball season opens with the shadow of the economic situation hovering in the offing but with the magnates predicting a prosperous year nevertheless. There have been no reduction in the price of admissions to the ball parks, although the salaries of the players have been slashed.

Other economy policies have been inaugurated. The player limit has been cut from twenty-five to twenty-three men for each club. Batting practice has been curtailed ten minutes which is expected will save each club $1,000 a year in baseballs.

Who Will Win?

The fans, however, are more interested in the outcome of the two pennant races than any economies instituted by the magnates. The big question is: What teams will win the flags in the two big leagues and meet in the world classic next fall?

Baseball experts, after much figuring and pondering, say nothing of peering at the athletes in spring training, are inclined to the view that it will be a good race in both leagues, particularly in the National League where the clubs seem to be more evenly balanced.

I am of the opinion that the world champion St. Louis Cardinals will not be as formidable as last year. Even so they seem to be the best bet to win the pennant in the National League. The loss of pitcher Burleigh Grimes and outfielder Chick Hafey will hurt.

Giants Are Strong

The New York Giants are picked as St. Louis most dangerous rival. The Chicago Cubs, with a powerful pitching staff, should be up close to the front all the way. Brooklyn, almost completely reorganized under a new manager, is an uncertainty. Pittsburgh is just a good club. Cincinnati, tall ends last year, look to me to be the most improved ball club in the league. Philadelphia is fairly strong but it is unlikely Boston will go anywhere.

In the American League, the consensus of experts is that the Athletics will have a hard time winning the flag again this year. Its veterans are slipping but the club still is mighty formidable and has great pitching strength.

Yankees Look Good

The New York Yankees, with Ruth and Gehrig, and some fine newcomers may prove powerful enough to knock the A's off this year. Washington and Cleveland are bound to be formidable and strong pennant factors. But the rest of the league, Detroit, Boston, Chicago and St. Louis, do not seem to be head; anywhere.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Paris Cangey, local lightweight, hasn't fought in some time but this has not prevented him from tutoring Red Hutton, 175 pounder of this city. Red is 19 and is well developed. He has had a year's tutoring and Cangey believes the time is ripe to send him into the preliminary ranks.

Hughey Shannon, former promoter of the Crescent A. C. was a visitor to the city. Shannon manages boxers and is also interested in the wrestling game. He reports that the mat artists are going over big in several New York state cities and said that when Jack Dempsey exhibited his fistic ware at Toronto, Jack drew $9,000.

Apologies today are in order as Balla, right forward of the St. Michaels team was not credited Monday with having made six field goals and two foul points in the game with Wesley M. E. Wesley won over St. Michaels 26 to 21. Critchlow, guard for Wesley was next high scorer with five field goals.

This season's baseball got under way yesterday in the American league at Washington when the Senators defeated the Boston Red Sox 1-0. The game went 10 innings. President Hoover threw out the first ball and braved the cold for seven innings. It was the fifth time he has seen the Senators play in Washington.

Prospects for a football game in 1934 between W. J. and Penn State are bright following an informal powwow between Acting Director Henry W. J. and Bob Higgins, coach of the Nittany Lions. Henry offered a proposal of a 1934 game but State's card has been filled. Higgins countered with a proposal for negotiations looking forward toward a game in 1934.

Board of directors of Slippery Rock State Teachers college has authorized a new athletic field and it is understood contracts will be let about June 1. The grading and improvement planned will mean the moving of 40,000 cubic feet of dirt. The new field, a natural amphitheater, will be located adjoining the present hockey field. There will be a gridiron, baseball field, soccer and two hockey fields. Bleachers will seat 3,000. It is reported also that the swimming pool in the new $100,000 gymnasium will finished this summer.

Paavo Nurmi has turned thumbs down on an offer from the United States to turn professional, according to a report from Helsinki, Finland. He was exonerated of professionalism charges by the Finnish Athletic association recently.

H. H. Newton of New York turned in a 76 to lead the field by a single stroke in the qualifying round of the Mason and Dixon amateur golf tournament at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Monday. E. G. Livsey, Columbus, O., and Jack Ryerson of Cooperstown, N. Y., were tied for the runner-up position with cards of 77.

Yankees Floor Season Is Ended

Frank Merando, Most Valuable Player Scores 125 Points

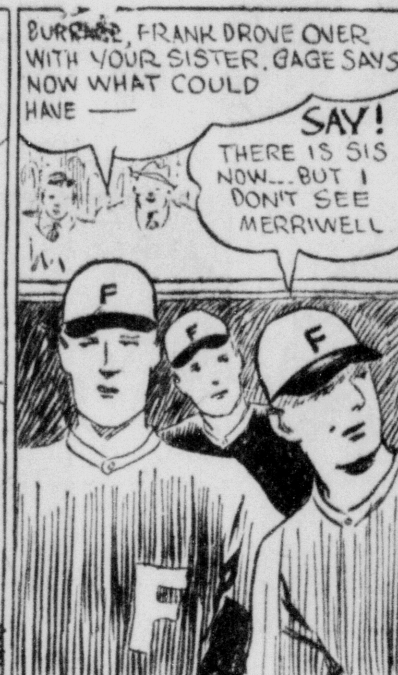

Young Yankees have closed their 1931-1932 basketball season. They won the Catholic Church league championship. Frank Merando was the most valuable player on the team. He scored 50 field goals and shot 25 of 61 attempts from the foul line. His running mate, Joe Merandi was second high with 85 points. The Yankees scored 409 to 327 points scored by opponents.

Bart Hodge is sore at Haul Rains because he thinks Rains, who was scoring a scrub-varsity game the other day, ratted him of a hit. Hodge hit a grounder, the third baseman fielding the ball clearly, but hesitating just long enough in his throw to first for Hodge to reach the base safely. Rains choked up an error for the infielder. Hodge claimed he should have been credited with a hit. What do you think? ### Believe Reds Got Best Bet

Charles "Chick" Hafey Will No Doubt Prove Valuable To Cincinnati

CARDINALS GOT "DEAD TIMBER"

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, April 12.—The National league baseball season opens on a note of high drama today with the transfer of Chick Hafey, 1931 batting champion of the circuit, from the top of the league to the very bottom on the eve of the inaugural.

The trading of the slugging outfielder from the champion St. Louis Cardinals to the tail-end Cincinnati Reds in a deal involving Benny Frey, pitcher, and the veteran Harry Hendrick, Cincinnati utility player, changes the prospects of both clubs for the coming season.

Hafey Heavy Hitter

While the loss of Hafey may not cost the Cards the pennant, they no longer can be considered outstanding favorites to win the flag. Frey, a fair pitcher two years ago, may improve with a heavy hitting club behind him, but will hardly compensate for the absence of the league's leading hitter. Hendrick's value to the Cards as utility man and pinch hitter will be negligible.

Although Frey won eight games and lost 12 for Cincinnati last year, he was unable to pitch as many as he completed games and was far down in the earned run averages with an average of 4.90 runs per game charged against him. He has been having trouble with his salary arm for some time.

Titan Track Team To Have Flashy Suits

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., April 12.—When the Westminster college track team cavorts on cedar path and field this spring, the Titan scintillants will have one of the most flashy uniforms in history.

Royal blue wool jerseys with a white "W" and royal blue silken trunks trimmed in white silk braid will give style and color to the team. Sweat suits will also be of bright blue.

With a wealth of good material, both veteran and freshman, the Titans should continue their good record of last season when three dual meet opponents were defeated and a second place was won in the Tri-State conference championships.

and hammer thrower, will carry the colors of the Titans in this carnival.

Other meets already scheduled include dual engagements with Bethany at Bethany, W. Va., on May 14, and with Geneva at Beaver Falls on May 21. A third dual meet is being carded, probably for the home track.

SPYING ON SPORTS

By WILLIAM RITT

Central Press Sports Editor.

Five, not one, "Olympics" are listed on the sports calendar this year, which gives 1932 credit for creating an all-time high for international track and field events held in any one year.

Communist and capitalist, Jew and gentile, all exhibit their athletic prowess, their skill, speed and strength in a series of international classics that should make this year a well-remembered one.

The tenth Olympiad, to be held in Los Angeles, Cal., July 30-Aug. 14 and general regarded as THE Olympic games for 1932, are the "oldest," involve the most nations, will exhibit the strongest, speediest and most skilled athletes, than any of the other four.

But the Tallteann games which will take place in Dublin, Ireland, June 29-July 15, have a greater historical significance.

The other three "Olympics" are: The Maccabean games, an all-Jewish Olympic, already held in Tel Aviv, Palestine.

The Workers' International Athletic meet, organized as a counter-Olympic because Soviet Russia was not invited to participate in the tenth Olympiad and because Tom Mooney, labor leader, is held prisoner in California, the state host to the Olympiad. Games take place in Chicago, July 29-Aug. 1.

The Spartakiade, scheduled for Moscow, Russia, as a celebration of the termination of the famed five-year plan.

The workers' meet and the Spartakiade were born of a subconsciousness, the Maccabean games express racial and religious integrity.

The Tallteann games, however, are an expression of national pride, by an intensely patriotic people—hence their historical significance.

The Tallteann games were born of Irish national pride and disappeared under the hoofs of a conquering horde. Norman knights in the 12th century. The games were revived in 1924 when Ireland and the Irish had gained the status of a Free State.

The origin of the Tallteann games has an even more charming legend aspect than the international Olympiad. The games were supposedly originated by Lugh of the Long Hand, an Irish hero, 1,300 years ago and were named in honor of Queen Talla.

An athletic race, the Irish have had many heroes, many of them mythological. Probably the greatest was Cuchulain who fought the magic cat, slew giants and was the strongest man in the ancient kingdom.

There won't be any Cuchulains in the Dublin games, but there will be some pretty good athletes, at that, seeing that an American boxing team of Irish-descent is now training in New York for the Tallteann contests. Other Irish-American athletes may participate in other events.

Schmeling Boosed In Toronto Ring

(International News Service)

TORONTO, Ont., April 12.—Max Schmeling, heavyweight champion, who will defend his title against Jack Sharkey in June, was a bit shaken today by the unfavorable reception he received at the opening of his exhibition tour here last night.

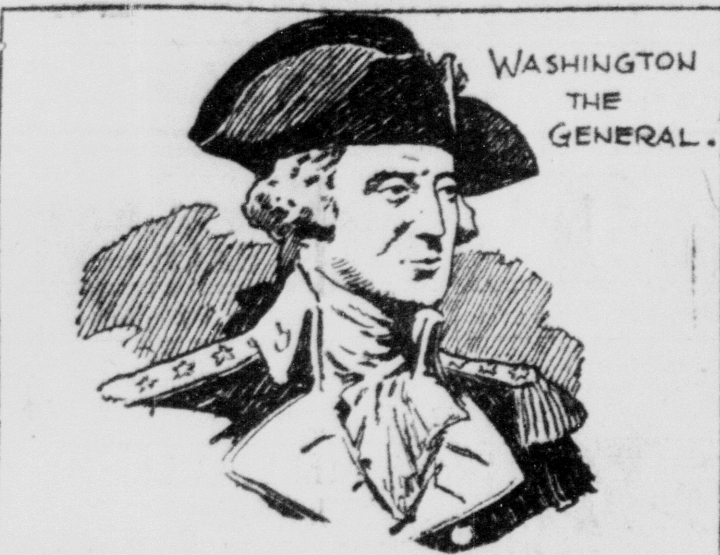

Thirty-five hundred fans boosed the German vociferously as he sparred three slow rounds with sparring partners. He appeared to weigh more than his announced poundage of 194 pounds, was a bit slow and his timing was poor.

Schmeling punched George Panka, of Pittsburgh, and Pedro Lopez, of Mexico, around the ring but was extended by Jack Shaw, of New York. Shaw made Max miss badly.

George Washington

THE RECOVERY OF BOSTON, MARCH 17, 1776, FILLED THE PATRIOTS WITH HOPE. IT RAISED WASHINGTON'S PRESTIGE AND SILENCED FOR A TIME THE CRITICS WHO HAD BEEN LOUDLY INSISTING THAT HE WAS OVER-CAUTIOUS AND SLOW TO ACT.

WASHINGTON CORRECTLY SURMISED THAT THE BRITISH WOULD STRIKE THEIR NEXT BLOW AT NEW YORK WITH THE OBJECT OF DRIVING A WEDGE UP THE HUDSON TO CUT OFF NEW ENGLAND FROM THE COLONIES TO THE SOUTH. HE SOON MARCHED FOR NEW YORK, ARRIVING THERE ON APRIL 13, 1776.

ON JULY 3 GENERAL WILLIAM HOWE, COMING FROM HALIFAX WITH 9,000 BRITISH TROOPS, LANDED ON STATEN ISLAND, WHITHER MANY WEALTHY TORIERS FROM NEW YORK CITY HAD FLED. AUGUST 12 HE WAS JOINED BY HIS BROTHER, ADMIRAL LORD HOWE, WITH A LARGE FLEET AND 20,000 MEN FROM LONDON.

Stock Market Rallies During Trading Today

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 12.—The stock market rallied today as the pressure of liquidation lifted.
U. S. Steel rose a point on Whitney's revelation that the short interest in this issue was 361,689 shares on April 6. N. Y. Central, after setting a new all-time low in the early dealings, turned upward on the disclosure that its short interest was 52,327 shares.
American Telephone led the advance with a rise of about 2 points. Auburn converted an early decline of more than a point into a 2-point gain.
Strength in Wheat stimulated the farm equipment and mail order shares with Case Threshing rising aggressively on short covering.

Weakness in Standard Oil of California, which went to a new low, and further pressure on Standard of New Jersey, unsettled the petroleum group, offsetting the spread of the Crude Oil price advance movement and a further reduction in the production allowable in the East Texas field.
Metal shares were under pressure with Kennicott equalling its low. Atchison rebounded after yesterday's slump, but weakness in Southern Pacific, which hit a new low, unsettled the rails. Utilities were better under the leadership of Consolidated Gas.
Bonds firmed up and commodities showed a steadier tone.

Moro Princess Beards British Lion

Former Co-Ed at American University, Virtual Ruler of Sultanate of Sulu, Demands Britain Relinquish Islands in Philippine Archipelago.

PRINCESS
KIRAM

Princess Tarhata Kiram, former co-ed at the University of Illinois, member of a national sorority and leader of class activities, has once more crashed the limelight with the revelation that she has sent a demand that the British Government relinquish certain islands in the Philippine Archipelago. The Princess, who is a niece and the adopted daughter of the Sultan of Sulu, has ruled as a virtual queen in Sulu since the old Sultan was appointed to represent his Moslem subjects in the Philippine Legislature by former Governor General Dwight F. Davis, last year. When Tarhata returned from the United States to Sulu in 1926 she entered the harem of Datu Tahir, Moro chief, as his fifth wife. In 1927 she joined her husband in a revolt against the Philippine Government. He was captured and sentenced to ten years in prison. It is not expected that her present demand to the British Government will be given serious consideration. Though the number and location of the islands involved has been kept secret, it is intimated that they are fairly large and economically important. However, owing to the unsettled condition of the Far East it is very unlikely that Britain would consider surrendering any scrap of land that might have strategic importance. Map above shows the position of the archipelago in relation to Australia. Circle shows probable location of involved islands.

Find Deficit In Cleveland

State Examiners Find Deficit of $679,482.63 In Checking Treasurer's Book

GRAND JURY MAY COMMENCE PROBE

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, April 12.—State examiners who disclosed in a report that there was a deficit of $679,482.63 in the Cuyahoga county treasury on December 18, 1931, may have been in error because of their lack of knowledge in the operations of the office, County Treasurer L. G. Collister said today.
The report, signed by State Examiner James N. Main and Assistant Examiner Albert Meyers, charged that of the total deficit a sum of $475,099.17 was represented by tax payments which Collister had received but had not certified to the county auditor as having been paid.

Denial is Made.
Release of the report was the latest development in a series of disclosures involving the county treasurer's office. Previously, Collister and Alex Bernstein, former chief deputy, were named defendants in suits which charged that illegal loans were made by the office to certain concerns and business men.
County Prosecutor P. L. A. Liebhely declined to comment today on possible action in connection with the alleged shortage. It was indicated that grand jury probe would be launched into the report.
In a statement after the report was disclosed, Collister said he had no personal knowledge of the charges alleged and said he hoped "proper authorities will give faithful deputies, if any, punishment as severe as their offenses deserve."

Most of the rules given for success by the eminent are as senseless as directions for making a hole in one in a golf game.—The Fort Wayne News-Sentinel.

Seattle City Hall Loses 'Art Gallery' Of Former Mayors

Pictures Put Away So Effectively They Can't Be Found

(International News Service)
SEATTLE, Wash., Apr. 12.—It's said but true—city hall care takers have no soul for art.
They consigned to the limbo of a forgotten storeroom space the city hall "art gallery" the collection of mayor's pictures that once adorned the walls of the chief executive's office.
Ex-Mayor Edwin S. "Doc" Brown called the attention of Mayor Robt. H. Harlin to the fact. Brown accused ex-Mayor Frank Edwards of having had the pictures removed when he decorated the office in what Mayor-elect John F. Dore has termed "Hollywood splendor."
Eber Badcon, secretary to Mayor

Harlin has been on a still hunt for the "art gallery" ever since Brown demanded that the pictures be restored to their rightful place.
Now Badcon revealed caretakers put the pictures away so effectively that he can't find them.
"They must be in the basement somewhere" said Badcon. "I'll find them if it's humanly possible."
Badcon expressed no concern over finding sufficient wall space if the collection continues to grow at the rate shown during the current year. When Dore takes office June 6 he will be the third chief executive to occupy the office in 11½ months.
"We have hundreds of feet of wall" Badcon said, "and we can always hang the pictures in a double or triple row."

Prevention Is Stressed As "May Day" Draws Nigh

Still Too Many Children Die Of Preventable Diseases, Dr. Appel States

COOPERATION OF ALL AGENCIES ASKED

(Special To The News)
HARRISBURG, April 12.—Dr. Theodore B. Appel, Secretary of Health, and Honorary Chairman of the "May Day" health celebration, for 1932, calls attention to the need for such activities, by quoting mortality figures among the children of the state during 1931. "May Day" observance starts with May 1st.
Pennsylvania lost 1705 children under two years of age last year from diseases of the intestines. Not hot weather, not teething—but carelessness caused many of these deaths. Clean food—especially milk—and quite simple care, help to prevent this "enemy" from doing harm.
The state lost 353 children from diphtheria in 1931. While this is the lowest in point of number in the history of the Health Department, why should there be so many, when there is a guarantee against it? Immunization—so safe, so sure, so easy to procure and use. Why run an unnecessary risk with a single child? The State Department of Health advocates the immunizing of children at the age of six months. If not previously protected, every preschool child should be immunized during this "May Day" celebration.
Smallpox, in this enlightened age, is still stalking about as a death dealer. Vaccination should be done not just before the child goes to school, but before the first birthday, so that he may have five additional years of safety.
We lost 1050 mothers last year in childbirth. Pre-natal care would have saved many of them. Our expectant mothers call loudly for attention. Thousands and thousands of parents are still uninformed as to the meaning and need of pre-natal attention. The annual sacrifice of both mothers and babies because of this ignorance, is alarmingly high. Every mother under the supervision of the family physician from the beginning—this should be the goal.
"May Day" this year—its ninth annual observance—will have a wider scope and more complete cooperation among all agencies concerned, than ever before. Its accomplishments should rank higher than ever before, said Dr. Appel.

"Y" Boys' Work Finds 300 Youths Sharing In Events

The boys of today are the key-stones of tomorrow's civilization. That is the belief of the Young Men's Christian Association and is the reason that this organization is endeavoring so hard to make the "Keystones" of life fit their respective spheres, by developing boyhood, spiritually, mentally, socially and physically.
Between the age of ten and fourteen the Y. M. C. A. is caring for three hundred boys each week of the year in some 12 boys' clubs and 16 gym activities.
Two times a week they are trained on the gymnasium floor under the best of leadership and with a specialist in physical activities. Three times a week the lads are given showers, their bodies examined for blemishes and sores after each bath. After the baths of soap and hot water they are directed to the swimming pool, here they are taught the art of swimming, giving aid to others in the water and many aquatic arts that are valuable to them in present and future life. In this gymnasium and swimming program, the body is developed, muscles are developed, boys are made happier because of healthier bodies and they are better fitted for life and how to meet life's demands.
Clubwork Extensive
Once a week the boys are allowed to enter some club sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. These clubs are under capable, trained, Christian leadership. The leaders understand and love boys.
The clubs have a program of Bible study and prayer in a way that boys learn to enjoy and appreciate the finer facts of life. Speakers of all professions give valuable time to speaking to "Y" boys. Subjects upmost in the lives of boys are discussed. Business ability is developed in a boy by office holding and thru business meetings. Responsibility and self reliance is developed in the boy's life. Such qualities as honesty, kindness, public speaking, willingness to be of service and many others are developed.
The fourth part of the program is the social development. Dinners, mother-and-son events, father-and-son, camp reunion, club rallies, hikes with dinners cooked in the open, over-night trips, baseball games, ping pong and checker matches. Visits to other associations with competition with boys of those associations. During the summer an excellent program of camp life is provided for the boy.
Should your boy be given these wonderful opportunities and advantages to develop into a real "key-stone" of humanity? The New Castle Young Men's Christian Association has such a belief.

ROAMING

With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

Drop in at any fire station along in mid-afternoon of most any day and you come to the conclusion that it's a soft life. A few of the boys are playing pinocle or rum, while a couple more of them may be over in the corner arguing the merit of dry flies as against worms for fishing.

The hours drag on and they seem to do nary a thing. An elegant life. One in which work is a non-existing entity. Plenty of time to smoke and read, or play a few cards.

And then late that night your opinion changes. Last night for example. The pinocle playing is forgotten, the arguments are out and the entire crew is out battling a blaze that may cost them their lives and at least exposes them to weather that carries pneumonia in its train.

Heat and water and wind, all three of them seem to combine against the firemen, with always the prospect of a falling wall crushing them. Last night nearly cost the lives of a couple of them and only the good offices of a Guardian Angel is the reason Archie Slovinsky is here today.

With his mates he was battling the blaze at the Citizen's Lumber Company, when a wall collapsed, showering bricks and blazing wood in its path. A pole nearby was in the way of the bricks and it went, dropping a 600 pound transformer. Believe it or not Mr. Ripley, but that transformer brushed Slovinsky's coat as it fell. Had it been three inches closer, the Scioto St. station would have lost a good man, and some of us would have been chipping in to send flowers.

A tough life, the fireman's. Tougher than a day in jail on a night like last night when the fire dragon is determined to lick up everything within a block, and the water seeps through your shoes, and the chill seeps into your bones, and

Uric Acid Poison Starts To Leave Body In 24 Hours

All Pain, Agony And Inflammation Gone In 48 Hours

Make up your mind that unless you treat Rheumatism, Neuritis, Neuralgia or Sciatica in the RIGHT way—you'll periodically suffer the rest of your life!

The superb ingredients of the Allenru prescription are favorably known and its marvelous pain-ending power banishes all discomfort. It's compounded to drive out of muscles, joints and tissues those excess uric acid deposits which cause agony of mind and body.

What a joy to know that never again need you sit up all night suffering terrible pain—what a blessing to know you can conquer this insidious affliction without harmful drugs, opiates or brain-numbing tablets which relieve only for a short time.

A large 8 oz. bottle of Allenru costs but 85c. Eckerd's Cut Rate and prominent druggists all over the U. S. say, "If one bottle of Allenru doesn't end your pain more quickly—if it doesn't give more lasting results than any other treatment—we'll gladly return your money." Allenru for 48 hours—then back on the job again.

the water soaked, smoke saturated fireman wishes he could change his job for a nice quiet task like digging a ditch.

Once again the firemen did a nice job of saving adjoining property. Nothing could be done for the plant itself, but there was a lot of money tied up in a storage building nearby and these were saved.

A very old lady who formerly lived in New Castle, Mrs. Alice O'Donnell of Foxburg, Pa., has written an interesting letter to one of her friends here, concerning the old Ore Bank hill. According to Mrs. O'Donnell, who remembers it distinctly, the bank started at what was known as the Dinkey Track (Taylor Street) and ran back to the Brinton property.

The ore was dug out of the hill and hauled by team down to the furnaces where it was worked into iron. The hill was owned by Squire DuShane father of the late Col. DuShane. According to Mrs. O'Donnell, this bank was worked during the Civil War.

Down in the Seventh Ward the boys are interested in the "Mystery of the Missing Penn." Some thought broke into Fred Hyde's drug store and walked out with all the pennies and razors he could find. Now every time anyone walks into the Seventh Ward fire station he is asked to show his fountain pen.

It was bad enough to steal a lot of new razors, according to Mr. Hyde, but what makes him sore is that thieves passed up a hundred dollars worth of new razors, to get back to the prescription counter and walk off with a razor he had been using for thirty years.

The semi-monthly meeting of the New Castle Ministerial Association was held in the Y. M. C. A. Monday at 10 a. m. with Dr. S. L. Maxwell, pastor of the Epworth Methodist church, presiding.

Dr. A. J. Randies had the opening devotionals, after which Robert Strickler, president of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, addressed the gathering.

Rev. D. C. Schnebly introduced the speaker of the morning, Dr. William A. Parson of the Pulaski Presbyterian church, who gave a most convincing address on Prohibition. He was extended a vote of thanks.

It was announced that Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, president of Westminster College, will be the speaker on April 25.

Rev. C. S. Joshua, pastor of Croton Methodist church, announced the coming eighty-fifth anniversary celebration which will be held in his church, June 5 to 12, and Rev. William McPherson of the Bethel A. M. E. church announced the thirty-second anniversary celebration in his church the latter part of May.

Dr. S. L. Maxwell, Rev. Rees T. Williams and Rev. D. C. Schnebly were appointed a committee to bring greetings to these churches.

Dr. C. B. Winger, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, spoke of the coming election and asked that all ministers urge their people to vote.

SEEKING FUNDS FROM TALBOT RELIEF BILL

BEAVER, Pa., April 12.—Fred W. Patterson, member of the general assembly, is in Harrisburg in an effort to speed relief funds from the Talbot bill. Beaver county funds for relief are exhausted and danger of real suffering is faced by the needy unless funds are soon available, he will point out the county's share under the Talbot bill would be $170,000. Patterson planned to confer with Governor Pinchot, General Edward Martin and heads of the welfare department.

Pymatuning Dam Calls 242 Jobless From Tri-County Area This Year, Revealed

What part the state managed Pymatuning dam work has played in alleviating unemployment in the Lawrence, Beaver and Butler county areas—temporarily at least—during the first quarter of the year can plainly be understood after glancing at figures announced here today.

R. L. Meermans, superintendent of the local state cooperative employment office established at the Y. M. C. A., compiled the report preparatory to making his regular reply to headquarters. It includes a review of the work up to April 2. Not alone does the report show up the contribution the project has made toward reducing the number of jobless here, but its tone along with the comments of Mr. Meermans on the future's activity voice as much optimism as ever.

More Work Expected
"Lawrence county will likely be called upon to provide 20 men each week," said Mr. Meermans. "Other counties will provide their share as well."

Since the Pymatuning cooperative work was first launched in January the Lawrence county contribution to the dam's working force has totalled 171. That many men have been employed out of the 178 that reported. Altogether 238 were called.

The Beaver county report shows that 54 out of 59 of its men have been given jobs. They called 94 there but only 59 reported.

Butler county's contribution has been 17. They had 25 called but only 21 reported.

Gives 242 Jobs
For the tri-county district, the local Y office report shows that 242 men have been given temporary work out of the 258 that reported. Some were refused because of physical reasons. Altogether that state has called 357 workmen from the three counties.

Approximately 50 Lawrence county men are working at the dam at the present time among the 800 who are employed there.

Locals Get Compliment

"Between soliciting automobiles for transportation and magazines for the men to read, we have a time" was Mr. Meermans' laughing comment. "And do they read—well take a ride up with us sometime when we take piles of magazines along and you'll see. The News arrival each day always creates a stampede."
